It Was Really Wet, Wet, WET All Over Last Week!

IT GOT PRETTY MUDDY in the back yard of the Larry Samuels home, 1120 Hilgado, Lafayette, after the rains last w eek. This is typical of the damage caused by the heavy downpour.

AND THIS IS where the mud came from. Sodden earth caused the collapse of retaining walls, dumping the residue into the Samuels patio.

ROADS WERE DAMAGED throughout the count, mostly by mud slides. Typical of the conditions left in the wake of the storm is this picture of El Nido Road in Lafayette.

How Can We Judge Textbooks? McCunn

By NORMAN COLBY

A "scientific approach" to evaluating college textbooks has been proposed by Drummond McCunn, superintendent of the Contra Costa College District, in a recent memorandum.

McCunn emphasized that his system, which employs a rating of zero to 100 per cent for each textbook, is only one alternative.

He added, "There are many approaches used today for scientifically evaluating textbooks."

A possible point rating system, said McCunn, might be as follows:

OUTSTANDING, 85 to 100; good, 70 to 85; weak, 55 to 70; unsatisfactory, below 55.

The point ratings would be based on several analyses, and McCunn listed seven, which are quoted directly from his memorandum:

1. The author. A biographical review of the author's background and his philosophy should be taken into consideration. The district office offers assistance in this area, if desired.

2. The author's recommended special readings as listed in a textbook. Do they provide a fair balance of the philosophies on a given subject area?

3. THE soundness, thoroughness and accuracy of subject matter. a. Truth cannot be opinion. b. Truth is not biased interpretation. c. Truth is not omission of pertinent fact. d. Truth is impersonal fact.

4. Literary quality.

5. Style and physical characteristics. a. charts. b. graphs. c. monuments. d. pictorial attractiveness. e. symbols. f. other illustrative material.

6. Objectivity of the book.

7. Other avenues of evaluation.

McCUNN referred to the district board's decision to have all district textbooks re-evaluated before June 30, and submitted to the board for decision.

He said that the re-evaluation was decided upon ". . . since some of the textbooks have been in use since the inception of certain programs and since certain requirements and course offerings have been modified by actions of the state legislature and other agencies. . . ."

"The board report further requested that the personnel evaluating textbooks make certain that the books are in accordance with the California Education Code, State Board rules and regulations and other agencies such as the four-year standard colleges and universities, business, industry, unions and government," said McCunn.

McCunn explained that the question "What is a textbook?" must be determined by the evaluating personnel, which includes the college directors, the deans of instruction and instructional personnel of each college.

HE SAID, "In accordance with the California Education Code, supplemental textbooks and library books are not the responsibility of the governing board.

"The responsibility rests with the college administrators to review supplemental or resource teaching aids which the instructional personnel recommend for purchase."

McCunn also discussed supplemental textbooks and reference materials, and the problem of making them available to students.

County States El Toyonal Policy

Here Is County's Reply To El Toyonal Report

Here is the complete reply, point by point, that was made by Paul E. Kilkenny, assistant public works director, to the report by the Hacienda Homes Improvement Association.

It can be compared with the recommendations made by the road committee of the association. (See separate story.)

A. The recommendation that betterment work cease until spring or until advantageous weather is a good one. We will defer all work until the rainy season is over.

B. It is our intention, in performing betterments along El Toyonal, to preserve as much of the natural beauty as we can. Unfortunately, it is not county policy to plant cut slopes. Our experience has been that natural vegetation will cover them within a relatively short period. However, if Hacienda Homes Association desires to undertake a planting program, we will be glad to give them assistance on types of cover and similar technical advice.

C. The intention of the work program along El Toyonal was not to increase the speed but to improve driver and pedestrian comfort and safety. As a matter of fact, our traffic engineer is presently conducting a traffic study along the El Toyonal route with an eye towards determining the possibility of establishing a 25-mile-per-hour speed limit.

D. PAVED roadside ditches are a recognized tool for gaining usable road width. Of the various points listed, all are considered in determining how much roadside excavation and resurfacing is needed. You have probably noticed that the work done near the intersection with Canon Drive included the surfacing of the roadside ditch area. On the inside of the curve, the plant-mixed surfacing was used so as to make more space available. On the outside of the curve, portland cement concrete lined ditch was used in order to have high capacity for the storm water runoff.

E. (1) A traffic study, conducted early last summer at the request of the El Toyonal committee, revealed that Loma Vista carries more traffic than El Toyonal. As a result of this the traffic control was switched from Loma Vista to El Toyonal. Accident experience to date has been very good and need for additional or more stringent control does not seem indicated at this time. If conditions should change at any time in the future, however, additional steps will be taken as needed.

(2) The parking problem at the Orinda Park Pool seems to be a neighborhood affair which is difficult to officially regulate. It is suggested that Hacienda Homes, Inc. bring this to the attention of the Orinda Park Pool Board of Directors and through them to the pool membership. We are sure that everybody will want to cooperate in the interest of safety.

(3) Widening of Loma Vista in the vicinity of Los Conejos is high on the priority list of proposed improvements. In order that this work may be accomplished, the granting of additional right-of-way is necessary. It was agreed among those who reviewed the areas that the Hacienda Homes, Inc. would attempt to obtain the necessary right-of-way for the county. Until this right-of-way is available, there is no possibility that work will be done at this location.

(4) THE AREA from Bonita Lane to 88 El Toyonal is one of the narrower sections of the road. We do not feel that any substantial road improvements will be gained by filling in the roadside ditch. It is virtually impossible to cut less than one foot on this ype of soil. If widening is desired, resloping of the embankment to at least at 1:1 slope will be necessary. The present embankment is steeper than 1:1 and is stable only because of existing vegetation. When resloping, the root structures are disturbed and the trees would probably die.

(5) The suggested relocation on your inlet box will be included in the work program.

(6) We will consider the suggestion of paving the roadside ditch when we make the final field review in the area between Stations 53+54 and 54+50.

(7) We will accept your suggestion of doing nothing at this location at this time.

(8) As already mentioned, the county does not provide roadside planting. We suggest that the El Toyonal Road Committee discuss the problem with the fronting property owners.

(9) The suggestion of dropping the grade at the intersection of El Toyonal and Loma Vista has some merit. However, the work contemplated on El Toyonal does not provide for projects of this magnitude. In order to properly reshape the intersection, considerable engineering studies would have to be made and would affect grade lines, both uphill and downhill from the intersection.

No Comment . . . Hacienda Homes On El Toyonal

In a letter to The Sun, T. W. Rimer, president of Hacienda Homes Improvement Association, noted that the association "has no comment at this time on the committee's report and subsequent answer to their suggestions by the public works department."

The report was submitted by the association last November 28.

The county's answer came in a letter from Paul E. Kilkenny, assistant public works director, on January 12.

The association's road committee was formed last November to look into the proposed changes on El Toyonal.

The purpose of the report "was to inform the residents of El Toyonal and vicinity and the county road commissioner this committee's recommendations for the best use of $25,000 authorized in the 1962 budget for El Toyonal and Loma Vista Road improvements.

Assn. Directors To Hear Land Use Report Monday

A report on the possible use of the Orinda Association land will be made to the group's board of directors Monday night.

The association's civic affairs committee approved the report of a subcommittee this week.

The association directors hold their monthly meeting at the Orinda School, starting at 8 p.m. The meeting is open to the public.

The land in question is 10 acres purchased by the association in 1958. It is located near the Orinda crossroads.

WHAT to do with the land was tossed to the Cvic Affairs Committee last year. The problem was then turned over to a special subcommittee which made its final report this week.

Final editing of the report is taking place this week and it will be ready for the directors Monday night, a committee spokesman said.

Members of the civic affairs approved the report with little discussion.

Sheriff Walter F. Young was a special guest at the civic affairs meeting. He discussed the police situation in the Orinda area.

Hacienda Homes Lists Road Recommendations

A recommendation by the Hacienda Homes Improvement Association that county projects for El Toyonal Road be deferred until spring was accepted by the County Public Works Department.

The recommendation came from the association's Road Committee in a report to the county.

Five major points were listed by the committee in regard to El Toyonal Road with 14 specific recommendations made for the county's benefit.

Assistant Public Works Director Paul E. Kilkenny answered each point of the association report in a letter to Hacienda Homes President T. W. Rimer.

Kilkenny's letter commended the road committee for the report.

He stated that it was the public works department plan to review the El Toyonal problem in the spring so that complete agreement and understanding would be reached prior to construction work.

Kilkenny asked that someone on the road committee be appointed as "liaison man" so that when his department was ready to make detailed plans, no time would be lost in arranging contacts and meetings.

THE FIRST four points of the report dealt with general recommendations, the first of which was that no work be done (except for normal road maintenance) until spring . . . in order to protect against slides and mud on road surface during the rainy season.

The other three general recommendations dealt with speed, beauty and the shape of side ditches along the road.

The committee asked that all work along El Toyonal take into consideration the natural beauty of the area. Any cuts that must be made, would be replaced with native ground cover by the county, the report stated.

Point C of the report urged serious visibility points and road width hazards to be corrected, but stated that the residents do not want a high-speed road.

Point D urged the county to seriously consider gently contoured, shallow side ditches because: 1) if concrete is treated with lampblack it will appear to be part of the road; 2) it will add two feet of width of road; 3) it will reduce need of deep bank cuts in many areas; 4) it will reduce hazard of connection driveway humps; 5) it will reduce danger of vehicles getting out of control in deep ditches; 6) can be used by pedestrians for safety; 7) it will eliminate expensive resurfacing of the road in many cases.

THE 14 specific recommendations are:

1. Arterial stop signs be placed on both lower Loma Vista and El Toyonal intersection for down traffic only.

2. Orinda Park Pool to load and unload passengers in parking area only.

3. That road be widened to 18 feet and upper bank cut on Loma Vista from Los Conejas intersection down to point 112.50 mark on road. That area below this point not be cut because of unstable ground.

4. That ditch opposite Bonita Lane intersection up to 88 El Toyonal, on up side of road be filled with shallow drainage ditch. That cutting be kept to less than one foot to protect trees.

5. Move drainage cover back into bank at point marked 50.52 on road.

6. Use gentle side gutters at points 53.50 to 54.50 (approx. 115 El Toyonal). No bank cutting needed.

7. At 54.50 to 55.50 do nothing.

8. Replant cut at 125 El Toyonal.

9. Lower Loma Vista three feet from upper intersection with El Toyonal increasing visibility 150 feet. No need to effect side yards.

10. Use gentle gutter on up side from 201 El Toyonal to 209 El Toyonal. Move telephone pole at 209 El Toyonal.

11. Move or lower catch basin opposite 234 El Toyonal (point 80. plus 11 road mark.

12. Between points 92 and 94 correct catch basin.

13. Remove scrub oak on lower side of El Toyonal 100 feet above El Rincon to save school bus mirrors.

14. Widen road to 18 feet between 106 and 118 survey points (Hellers up to next intersection), and hold bank cuts to minimum. Fill opposite 347 El Toyonal to save driveway.

Sun Willl Sponsor Rifle Safety Night Monday

Monday night is safety night at Acalanes High School when The Sun, in cooperation with the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's Club, presents a Father-Son Rifle Safety program at 8 o'clock.

The special program will be under the supervision of Bill Collins and Jim Monk, experienced in teaching hunter-safety courses which are required before a minor can get a hunting license.

Unfortunately a license is not needed to accidentally kill someone with a gun or rifle and it is this fact which brought about the special session Monday night.

Slides illustrating the dangers of unsafe handling of firearms as well as a live demonstration of proper gun handling are included on the program. The presentation will only last an hour but will set up future meetings on firearms safety.

The Sun's campaign is a follow-up to a fatal shooting of an eight-year-old boy two weeks ago.

Hatchet Days Are Here Now; Prices Slashed

What George Washington allegedly did to a cherry tree, merchants are really doing to living costs today and tomorrow as they slash prices in a special area-wide Hatchet Days sale.

This is your chance to take advantage of thousands of outstanding bargains offered by firms of this region in the advertising columns of this newspaper as well as The Sun Shopping News delivered Wednesday to your home.

With the father of our country "chop, chop" meant cutting things. In the Orient, "chop chop" means hurry up. Combine them both on Hatchet Days, today and tomorrow, and it means hurry up to your nearest store where they're really cutting things — prices, mainly.

Thoroughfare System Plan Gains Favor

The report on recommended priorities for a ten-year construction program on the city-county thoroughfare system for the cities and county was recommended for approval at a meeting of the City-County Planners Association in Walnut Creek February 14.

Action taken by the City-County Planners, an association of planning personnel working for the various cities and for the county, approves the report prepared by a committee of engineers and planners.

The City-County Planners recommendation will go to the Mayors Conference and to the Highway Advisory Committee and recommends that the two latter organizations transmit the report, with recommendation for its approval, to the County Board of Supervisors.

The regular monthly meeting was held at Kellogg's in Walnut Creek and was presided over by David Baker, senior planner for Concord, current chairman of the group.

Rains Remind Leaders of Local Dangers

"Heavy rains in the Bay Area and Contra Costa County have again brought the realization that a natural disaster can strike quickly, unexpectedly, and with great force," said Raymond Van Tassell, disaster chairman for the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross.

"Under a public law passed in 1905, the American National Red Cross is responsible for food, clothing, shelter, supplementary medication, and rehabilitation in the case of a natural disaster," added Van Tassell.

Van Tassell and Colonel Clarence W. Parham, vice chairman, met recently with William Ward, coordinator, Region 2, State Disaster Office, to review American Red Cross responsibilities under a state of disaster or a state of extreme emergency resulting from natural disaster.

"The California Disaster Office will cooperate and may act in unison, but at no time impose administrative authority on the American Red Cross," said Ward.

Colonel Parham emphasized that Red Cross' responsibility is to the protection of life and property, restoration of public buildings and roads, etc. Colonel Parham stated that the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter, is well prepared to cope with the type of disaster which might occur in Contra Costa County. During the past summer Red Cross provided feeding and supplemental medical care for the large scale grass fires that affected our county.

David Frey to Be Honored by EBMUD

David W. Frey of Orinda will receive a 15-year service pin from East Bay Municipal Utility District in ceremonies in Oakland.

Ten employees will be honored by EBMUD officials for long service, the most important being Albert C. Carrington, EBMUD vice president for 14 years and member of the board of directors for 15 years.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

I Cannot Tell a Lie . . .

WHEN THE FASTIDIOUS father entered the kitchen & found sugar trailed from one end to the other, he shouted at the top of his lungs—"Alright, you kids! WHICH ONE spilled this stuff all over?" It must have been George's B'day that made the meek little matron, his wife, reply—"I did it! I cannot tell a lie" . . . Since there are many fastidious fathers & more meek little matrons (there ARE?) was dassn't divulge in which household this happened.

RIGHT NEXT DOOR to each other on Via Hermosa live Kitty Schwarck (she's Heart Sunday Co-Chrmn.) & Britta Schwarting, a Beauty Consultant gal. One is an old timer, Kitty having lived here 21 yrs. . . . while Britta & her husband, Chiropractor Jack Schwarting & their two children are recent newcomers . . . Well, look backward, angel. The story here is that there they are, right next door to each other w/that similar unusual spelling in both their names—SCHWARetc. . . . like the Van Duynes & the Van Dynes who, too, live right across the way from one another. Sorry, we have no Van Doons today!

LET GEORGE DO IT! That's how I feel, this being a holiday & all . . . How are you gonna keep them home in Orinda after they've seen all the cars piled w/skis heading for the snow country.

Like Hazel Wilcox carrying stretch pants from Sports Unltd. over her arm . . . & Billie Carlock reserving her skis for the Tahoe trip she & Ross will take w/18 young Luther Leaguers, Eager Beavers! Tom Mann tooling homeward in his V-wagon w/red skies perched up high thereon . . . The traffic for ski rentals was terrific.

THE GERRY PIXLEYS having a Snow Ball at Squaw all week & calling home to Squawk about the heavy snowfall . . . The Frank Brushes into SF from a Palm Springs holiday last Sunday, almost had to bail out of the plane. It circled the airport over an hour . . . & the SIZE of those raindrops!

WE HAVE A WINNER! Tom Buffalow of La Plaza was this week selected winner of KABL'S contest for his deserving essay on "Why I Deserve A Raise" . . . Whatever the man's answer, it got him the red carpet treatment w/KABL rolling up a Rolls Royce to his door every morn for a week for a fancy chauffeured ride to work.

SUNDAY sightem: Musicologist Lois Flenner heading for the Mu Phi Epsilon Musical Benefit which she chairmaned, the musical funds to benefit a scholarship at College of Holy Names . . . Orindan Helen Holzinger also aided in the musicale.

MUSICAL NOTE II . . . Lindy Grimes, the budding pianist Bud belonging to Gerry & Lu Grimes (she's a student of Mrs. Haak) was this week being auditioned for the Bach Festival.

VISITOR in our midst (& that low tulle fog made her feel right at home) was the Angus McLeod's houseguest & member of the McLeod clan, Mrs. Joan Woolrige-Gordon from the Isle of Skye. She's the daughter of Dame Flora MacLeod who recently celebrated her 84th B'day w/210 members of the MacLeod clan present! HOOT MON!

ANGUS, as you know, is head of the MacLeod Society in California & Dr. Grover MacLeod, another Orindan, is still another member of this elite group of Scotsmen.

BADGE OF COURAGE is what Jan Soubielle's friends are calling the wound on her forehead. She was a Sat. night casualty in the line of duty for Orinda Woman's Club. While gathering ivy w/Hazel iVeira, she was hugging such an armful she didn't see the car door on the steep driveway . . .

JUDY HOWES heading for studies at SF State, put Nancy Veitch's typing book on top of her car while she unloaded her arms of sundry other school paraphernalia. Not till she got to class in SF did she realize the book was missing. She came home to check along the route . . . A kindly gentleman had picked up the book, returned it to her on the morrow.

Don't Let George Do It!

THE MIRAMONTE Parents' Club party to incl. Teens & Teachers too, will follow a SF format & for the flower vendor effect, Winnie Gilmore would be looking now for a pony cart. You mean you've really got one you use as a planter? If you've got an old cable car closeted somewhere, they could use that, too!

SF SIGHTEM: Sidewalk superintendents at an Enrico's Coffee House ringside table last Friday incl. the Ernie Starkmans who watched all the characters stroll by . . .

MAYBE IT'S just Suburbanism creeping in, but it seems that the City has more characters per block than it did a few years back. Real Individuality . . . . or maybe we all get so used to looking alike out here!

DANGEROUS PLACE, that Rummage '62 at Santa Maria Hall . . . Mary Lou Mutch's new carcoat disappeared in the rummage for two weeks, turned up again . . . Another gal's brand new sweater she put down for a minute was swept up by a customer & sold as "rummage"—(like my pin.)

Please, ladies, for your own sake, don't encumber yourselves while shopping w/anything unnecessary. Most of the old "vets" don't even bother to bring their purses. It's a Grab-Bag game for everybody . . . Even the nasty weather didn't slow down sales.

One localite picked herself off some sacks from SAKS, another found new ski pants.

It's kind of a hunt & peek system w/people wearing a "Please Don't Disturb" look on their beings while they seek out the bargains. Bring your lunch & spend the day. It's like shopping at S. Klein's in New York. You've got to go through SOME junk to find the good stuff! Daily 10-4!

BY GEORGE! No wonder Teacher Don Jesse is still a bachelor. The crime he committed, tsk! tsk! Forgot ALL about it being Valentine's Day!

SOMEONE surveying the new peaked-roof Post Office was overheard to remark: "They're gonna need roller skates to get around in there" . . . If it comes to that, I'll bet Post Mistress Laura Mallary would even look lady-like doing her duty THAT way!

AROUND TOWN: Shari Sage out collecting Saturday for the Debs' Bottle Drive, profit to go towards a scholarship . . . When Mary Rushforth, rushing around at the Rummage Saturday, gets a box full of violets (from Eva Parker's garden?) tell me true, can Spring be far behind?

Here Is County's Reply To El Toyonal Report

we will request the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to relocate the pole.

((1) Same as E (5).

(12) We attempted in late summer to obtain permission to perform improvement work between Stations 92 and 94, but were unable to obtain the necessary rights of entry and we therefore dropped the project. Correction of the catch basin was included in the proposed work. There is no point in considering catch basin work here if road facilities are not improved. We will be happy to reconsider this if your committee is able to obtain rights of entry from the adjacent property owners.

(13) We will consider trimming the scrub oak about 100 feet above El Rincon. We do not feel that removal of trees along this slope is advisable.

(1) The section between Station 106 and 118 was No. 1 priority considered last summer. This project was not completed because we were unable to obtain appropriate rights of entry. We will again review this stretch of road and if the improvement you suggest can be performed within the county right of way, we will schedule the work in the spring.

'Unify with Trees' Is Orinda Beauty Plan

A master landscaping plan that would "unify with trees" Orinda's north and south business areas was presented to the Orinda Beautification Committee last Thursday night by Robert M. Babcock, landscape architect.

His plan integrates existing trees and shrubs with suggested new planting as Orinda grows.

Olive, chestnut, redwood and pine trees on the Crossroads side would be carried over to the Village side, largely by planting along the freeway.

William Penn Mott of the Oakland Park Department suggested that trees could be grouped along the freeway behind the Village area from Santa Maria Way to Camino Sobrante. Daffodil bulbs could be naturalized under the trees for a carpet of color next spring, he said.

Liquidambar and poplars would contribute fall color; existing grevillea, acacia and flowering eucalyptus with a few flowering crabapple trees added would furnish spring color.

THE PLAN, when complete, will be shown to various civic organizations as a goal that Orinda could work for and achieve over a period of years.

No sizeable trees will be planted without provision of maintenance for the first three years. A line of one inch pipe would be laid along the planting area as the first step, following approval of the project by the County Public Works Department. The committee hopes that some of the pipe may be donated.

Members of the committee will also meet next week with Sylvester Evans of the State Division of Highways to discuss construction of a fountain near the new proposed Greyhound bus stop.

It is felt that a fountain would add a great deal to the "Front Door of Orinda" as well as providing a note of coolness during the hot summer.

Mrs. Philip Rust, chairman of the Anti-Litter Poster Campaign held throughout the schools every year, told the committee that the poster contest will be just for the fifth grades this year.

WINNING posters will be placed around town on March 5 to coincide with Conservation Week.

Those present at the meeting included Robert Babcock, Ewart Penn Mott and Mesdames Stephen J. Pnair, James Hupp, William Stewart, Murray McNeill Philip Rust, Basil Winslow, Paul Pollaczek and Joseph Conley.

Anyone interested in contributing toward the beautification of Orinda or working on the committee should contact Mrs. Joseph Conley, chairman, CL 4-5891, or Ramsay Underwood, treasurer, CL 4-4322.

Whereabouts of Moraga Man Still a Mystery

The whereabouts of investment broker Lester M. Grant of Moraga is still unknown, according to Oakland police and the Contra Costa County sheriff's office Wednesday night.

Grant, 40, of 1092 Sanders Drive, disappeared from his home February 1. He was reported missing February 15 by his wife.

Mrs. Ann Grant said she last saw her husband as he packed his bags and drove away in a rented car on that date.

She had filed divorce papers against Grant on February 5 and was awarded $600 a month alimony and attorney's fees.

GRANT'S rented car was found February 2 parked at San Francisco Airport.

An investigation into Grant's firm, the Lester Grant and Co., brokerage company, showed that the books were in good order.

Auditors of the State Division of Corporations said no shortage had been found.

Mrs. Grant told officers at the county sheriff's office that her husband had complained of headaches and acted strangely following an automobile accident December 3. She could give no reason for his disappearance, however.

GRANT is a former Oakland councilman and vice-mayor. He served from 1951 to 1958 before resigning.

Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan, a listed first vice-president and director in Grant's firm, said the still-unfinished state audit of the company showed that the firm owes Grant some $1500.

Houlihan's law firm had acted as counsel for the brokerage firm. Upon learning of Grant's disappearance, he ordered an audit of the company's books.

The mayor said he had lent his name to the corporation in 1960 to help it get started.

The firm was ordered to cease transacting business last Wednesday, according to Donald Pierce, deputy corporation commissioner.

TWO reports have placed Grant in South Africa and Mexico City.

Del Prado Hotel in Mexico listed Grant as a guest on February 1. He checked out the next day.

A post card from Grant to a friend in Oakland had a Durban, South Africa, cancellation.

Dance Leaders

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clifford of Orinda were professional leaders at the Anna Head School eighth-grade assembly dance last Friday night.

EDY'S windows are all Yankee Doodle Dandied up in honor of George & Abe w/prim flags, drums, confederate coins (chocolate-minted) but when we wondered about the hatchets, the good ladies told us . . . They'll probably arrive in time for St. Patrick's Day . . . Well, when you own a candy shop, those are the kind of problems you have!

DUTCH TREAT to have Claire Barkelew to dinner & hear about life in Holland. Someone at our dinner table asked about the plumbing problems or differences & learned (as did Claire's mother, Virginia) that the bathroom wash basins are loosely adhered to the wall. The Sociables

By MARIE MONAHAN

IF YOUR PICTURE of club women is a bunch of staid Helen Hokinson characters, you didn't see the Orinda Woman's Club in action at their dinner dance last Saturday night. It was one of the liveliest & most successful parties ever scored by the group.

LIVELY, indeed! The rafters of the new Masonic Auditorium were thoroughly shaken with rhythmical beats varying from Twist to Samba. Not to mention the table-to-table singing (instigated by jovial Joe Zablocki) or the community singing during intermissions led by another jolly group that had emerged from the bubbly earlier at Marily & Ernest Haynes' home.

Early arrivals at the dinner dance from the Haynes' home were Afton & Jim Stockholm, the Henry Soubielles (who later proved experts at The Swing), the Don Woodcocks, Dick Bottjers, Joe Zablockis (Betty is a new member) & Fran & David Wenrich.

CHAMPAGNE toasts were served all around at the Ken Flanagans to guests Carolee (club V.P.) & Fred Neilson, the John Bankers, Dick Paltenghis & Irene & D. J. Bently. President Oma Stewart & her husband Stephen's early gathering included Vicki & Bob Buis who were celebrating their anniversary, Lee & Don Texdahl, Virginia & Don Pederson, the Herb Wards, John Barkleys, Charles Baumanns, Cliff Campbells, Bill Cannons, Carolyn & Jack Cash, the Jim Daltons & Gordon Davidsons.

"STEP CAREFULLY OVER the body on the floor of the den" was the warning issued guests traipsing to the threshold of John & Mary Green's. But no Alfred Hitchcock motive here! Just their youngster Soooo absorbed in TV that he wasn't even aware of the guests' arrival. Betty & Walt Treanor were celebrating Walt's B'day one day early. On the felicitating end were Barbara & Don Anderson, the Roger Bonds, Earl Evanses (Nancy did a dutiful, beautiful job of setting & decorating the tables) the Holland Du Boises, Blaine Dorsetts, Marie & Walt Gaffney & Lorrie & Ed Patterson . . . Lorrie a standout on the dance floor in red lace.

EFFERVESCENT libations prevailed, too, at Betty & Walt Jaegers' before the journey to the new building for neighbors Nancy & Marty Stiles (her frock a stunning gold knit sheath), Connie & Ken Doty from across the street, Muriel & Earl Hill, the Bruce Hoffes, Hal Johnsons, Walt Jamonds, Chris Madsens, & Nancy & Walt Edmonds.

EVERYBODY IN A DANCING MOOD: After an Italian supper by candlelight, the Club members & their partying husbands were given a vigorous demonstration of the Twist by the Cliffords, that popular dance team of Doris & George, who had all the guests clapping their hands to music . . . & ultimately after a few hours of Twist variations (the Susie Q, Sugarfoot, Paddle, Towel, Lassoo, etc.) a few more weekend casualties in the sacrioliac department.

DORIS CLIFFORD'S Twist dress, a stunning white fringed sheath . . . Joyce Burchell, general chairman of the party, proved an expert Twister as did many of the guests who obviously have had some practice.

LATER evening, the rhythm of the records changed over to a schottische, even a polka & the dancing crowd proved themselves at no loss to execute these dances either . . . Orchids to Joyce Burchell & her assistant chairman Betty Henry for the outstanding party . . . Ditto to Julie & Dale Dryer who skipped the early laughing-water libations in order to help have dinner ready the minute guests arrived at the hall.

TOO BAD the teenage progeny couldn't have been mice in the wall . . . The picture of their parents having such a fun-time party would have proved to them that Life Begins At Forty! Make it Thirty-Nine!

Basketball Games, Shows And a Four-Day Weekend

By ANN LINCOLN AND KITTY MIKA

Aren't these long weekends absolutely great! And just think—only another month and a half until Easter vacation!

Last Friday night Miramonte lost a very close game to San Ramon in the last minute or so of the game. The Mats and the Wolves kept the score almost even until near the end of the game when the Wolves sunk three baskets leaving a score of 56-50.

In-between-record entertainment at the after-game dance was provided by Ron Jouthas, Dwight Thompson and others who gave monologues to the multitudes.

Lani Freeman had a merry quadrangle going consisting of Greg LeGrand, Jack Kammejier, Richard Pilgrim and Dennis Finn. Others enjoying themselves at the dance were Nancy Englehard, Brad Harlan, Paul Barrett, Dede Davis, Mary Bartlett, Steve Brush, Doug Dermit, Kathy Adams, Clint DeWitt, Barbie Brush, Chris Campbell, Dick Blair, Doug Knudsen, Tami, Paul Locklin, Mimi Loomis, Linda Rice, Chris Felchlin, Mimi McGah, and Charlie Brock.

A FEW WEEKS ago Karen Stafford was given a surprise birthday dinner party by Mrs. Stafford, John Lackey, Ron Kay and JoAnne Warner at the Orinda Country Club to celebrate her 17th birthday.

Saturday night, Dick Miller, Wendy Wilcox, Steve Miller and Linnet Trefts had dinner at atmospheric Tiki Bob's and then went to see Westside Story. Grigg DeWitt, Dwight Thompson and their dates also enjoyed Tiki Bob's cuisine and then toured San Francisco. Other Miramonte people seeing Westside Story were Bruce Nickerson, Sue Brown, Paul McChesney and Sue Nattress.

Rheem show featuring Butterfield 8 and Where the Boys Are attracted many Miramonte girls. Friday night, those viewing the pictures were Pat Finn, Linda Van Sickle, Estelle Cataline, Sue Nicolaysen, Jane White, Wendy Wilcox, Jackie Villata, Sherry Odenthal, Ann White, Nancy Bregar and Mary Baker.

'Rival' Groups In Jr. College Fray

McCunn Fete Planned; Study to Start March 5

Two rival citizens groups, one likely to favor Contra Costa Junior College District Superintendent Drummond McCunn, the other likely to take the other side, have been formed just one week before the official investigation of district personnel troubles is scheduled to begin.

A testimonial dinner on behalf of Dr. McCunn is planned by the "Taxpayers and Parents Associated for Better Education."

The announcement, not signed but offering a mailing address, Box 666, Lafayette, said the time and date of the dinner will be decided soon.

PERSONS interested in joining the group should write the box number, the announcement said.

The aims of the group were listed as follows:

1. Rededication to the teaching of American ideals and culture, and

2. Maintenance of the authority of the board of governors of the district as an administrative instrument of the local community.

The other citizens group, "The Friends of the Junior College," has been studying the district's personnel problem for several weeks, according to William Houff, one of the leaders.

DR. RICHARD Kennan, a member of the Rights and Responsibility Commission of the National Education Association, will speak under the "Friends" auspices next Friday at the Diablo Valley College.

Kennan's talk will begin at 7 p.m. in the student activities building.

Members of the public interested in contacting the group may write Box 552, Walnut Creek.

Purpose of the group is to clarify issues and gather information, said Houff. Other "Friends" active members include John Cressman and Mrs. Dorothy Powell.

THE OFFICIAL inquiry and concurrent studies by other groups all concern the problems of the relationship of Superintendent McCunn to his administrators and teachers and alleged lack of communication and friction.

The study approved by the board of governors, and involving marathon questioning of district administrators, trustees and teachers, will begin March 5, announced the California Teachers Association.

The hearing panel will function under the CTA's Personnel Standards Commission and will include two members each from the California Association of School Administrators, the California School Board Association and the California Teachers Association, also one member from the California Junior College Association.

The sessions will be "closed" and the information gathered will be considered confidential, according to James Williamson, CTA personnel standards executive.

"THE HEARING panel is interested in obtaining first-hand factual information from individuals relating to problems being studied in the district," Williamson said.

Persons wishing an appointment to appear before the panel may call OXford 7-1400, Extension 256, in Burlingame.

A secretary will take the names of those wishing to appear before the panel and will schedule an appointment.

Deadline to make appointments is next Thursday at 5 p.m. Times and place for the hearing will be made known to those appearing by individual letter at a later date.

ANOTHER board "executive" session was held Tuesday night at the administrative offices at 517 Court Street, Martinez.

"No comment" was the reply to questions from Board President William Kretzmer.

The personnel problems of the district probably will not be discussed at the board's next regular public meeting, to be held Monday at 8 p.m. at Diablo Valley College, said Kretzmer.

The personnel question is not on the agenda.

School Board Members Learn About Service

The second of four study sessions in "School Board Service" was held Wednesday in the Fireside Lounge, Diablo Valley College.

According to Donald M. Falconer, president of the Contra Costa School Board Association, the purpose of the study sessions is to encourage all school board members in Contra Costa County to become more familiar with phases of their school board service such as "Legal Aspects of School Board Service," "Role of School Board and School District in School Finance" and "The School Board and Personnel Policies."

The discussion Wednesday on legal aspects was moderated by Richard Perry, former deputy attorney general for San Francisco in charge of school matters.

Topics of discussion include mandatory educational codes versus discretionary codes; legal counsel for school boards; the authority of the district attorney, the attorney general and the administrative advisor; school district liability and personal liability of school board members.

Theater Group Has Meeting

The Contra Costa Musical Theatre met Tuesday evening at Root's Restaurant, El Monte shopping center, Clayton Road, Concord.

Reports were given on the progress of their production, Sigmund Rombergs' tuneful operetta "The Student Prince."

Movies made during rehearsals of "Anything Goes" were shown.

Membership is still open, and persons interested in singing, dancing, acting or technical stage work are invited to contact Mrs. Walter A. Schill or Mrs. R. G. Duncan for further information.

YMCA Plans Banquet for 'Pre-Series'

The Mt. Diablo YMCA member enrollment "Pre-World Series Banquet" will be held Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the Walnut Creek Methodist Church, 1543 Sunnyvale Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Two hundred "big league" players, secretaries and usherettes will attend the turkey-tetrazzini dinner. This year's baseball theme will highlight banquet speaker Joe Orengo, former third baseman of the Giants.

There will be two field divisions working, representing the 20 teams in the National and American Leagues. This year for the first time, participating members will work as members of the American League.

Six teams will be composed of Y Indian Guide Fathers, four teams of Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y parents.

Y Indian Guide team managers include Lloyd Teel, Don Campanelli, Paul Cortese, Don Bozarth, Jim Corbett and Ken Bry.

The purpose of the member enrollment is to secure 600 sponsoring members and $18,000 to help supplement funds from the United Crusade.

A third professional staff person is now on the job in charge of YMCA high school groups.

Rabid Skunk Count Goes Up; No Menace, Though

Last week the county reported that five rabid skunks had been found in the Lafayette-Orinda area. This week the count is up to eight.

"But this is not what we would call a serious situation at the moment," said Assistant County Health Officer Dr. John Baier. "We just want people to be aware of the situation. Their pets could become exposed to rabies, then their children."

Regarding pets, Dr. Baier said that people should recognize that there is some hazard in owning an animal. If it is allowed out, to roam the hills at night, it could become infected with rabies.

"AND THIS MIGHT not show up for several months," Dr. Baier continued. "By that time you have forgotten all about the original incident and are not prepared for peculiar action on the part of your animal."

He said that anybody with a sick animal should take it to the veternarian immediately. "But they don't," he added.

Dr. Baier explained that the county is still considered a rabies endemic area, and that inoculations for all dogs for rabies is required by law. But cats and other animals are not included.

The symptoms of rabies are very indefinite—they can vary, he explained. "You can't tell whether or not an animal is rabid by just looking at it," he said.

THE STATE keeps records of animals it examines for rabies. These animals that have been sent to state laboratories under suspicious circumstances. The state found that 10 per cent of all the animals examined were skunks, and that 57 per cent of these turned out to be rabid. But during the same period only one-half per cent of the cats were found to be rabid and about four per cent of the dogs.

"It is a funny thing," said Dr. Baier, "but rabies is expected to kill the animal that contacts it. The only way the disease can spread is for the infected animal to bite or make saliva contact with the blood stream of another ainmal or person during the six to eight day period when it is infectious and before it dies. Otherwise, the disease can't be kept going."

"FOR EXAMPLE, it could cause heavy damage to the local skunk population to the extent that the disease is no longer transmitted from skunk to skunk. Then we would expect the incidence of rabies in animals to drop sharply.

"The danger is that when you have a lot of dogs around, who are not vaccinated, they can contact the disease. The incubation period is unknown, but it has run as long as eight months in humans, and there is some evidence that animals carry the virus for quite a while.

"Once the dog develops symptoms of rabies he will die within five or six days. We are not sure about skunks."

"BUT SUPPOSE," continued Dr. Baier, "that a dog is exposed to rabies and nobody knows it. He can get to the infectious point and bite another dog. Nobody knows how many dogs he can tangle with in a few days. Then possibly infected dogs return to their individual families and you are sitting on a real powder keg."

If a dog has been vaccinated, Dr. Baier said, he is 90 to 95 per cent safe . . . "But no vaccination is perfect."

"That is why," he added, "that the whole aim in this business is prevention of rabies in the first place. Because it is always fatal. There is no known cure for it . . ."

He added that dogs and skunks seem to be more susceptible to the disease than other animals. Few cats, for example, seem to contact the disease.

Knox Visiting Congress Library

Assemblyman John T. Knox of the Eleventh District is visiting the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C.

Knox was selected by the rules committee of the state assembly as chairman of a subcommittee to investigate and report on the establishment of a legislative referral service for the California legislature.

Knox will also confer with directors of a similar service in Madison, Wisconsin.

"The purpose of a legislative referral service," Knox said, "is to provide legislators with a nonpartisan, independent analysis on the thousands of bills that pass over their desks during each regular session.

"It is impossible for your assemblyman to know in detail the implications of every bill. There are five times as many advocates as there are legislators.

Novelist Will Speak at Jewish Campaign Dinner

Yael Dayan, daughter of Moshe Dayan, former commander-in-chief of the Israel Defense Forres, and author of two best-selling new novels, will speak at the dinner opening the 1962 Jewish Welfare Federation Campaign for the Contra Costa County Area, March 18 at Concord Inn.

Miss Dafan's first visit to the United States in 1956 was interrupted by news of Sinai.

She returned home immediately and enlisted in the Israeli Army six months before her conscription was due. After basic training she entered officers' training school, at the age of 17, and became a sub-lieutenant training recruits.

Most of the notes for her first novel "New Faces In The Mirror," which won instant acclaim, were written before and after breakfast and during long night watches as an officer.

Miss Dayan left the Army at the end of 1958 and spent six months in a small fishing village in Brittany, writing the first full draft of her novel in English.

Yael Dayan is a sabra, a native Israeli, born in 1939 in Nahalal, a village near Haifa.

She has traveled extensively throughout Western Europe and the Scandinavian countries and has written articles for "The Jewish Observer" and scripts for the B.B.C.

Seniors Want Housing

Housing especially designed for senior citizens but located in the center of community is the wish of older persons, according to a survey of housing needs of the elderly in Contra Costa.

Many of the houses are too big and too difficult to maintain and too far from community facilities; some living arrangements were overcrowded or lonely.

The survey, initiated on the request of several private builders and in cooperation with the Contra Costa Council of Community Services and the Housing Authority of Contra Costa, was conducted on an experimental basis by the project on aging.

QUESTIONNAIRES in newspapers and placed in libraries throughout the county were answered voluntarily by 422 persons over 62 years of age during their retirement years.

The results of the survey, which are being published by the council through its monthly "Council Currents," represents slightly over one per cent of the present population of those over 62 years of age in the county.

Maxine Duarte, executive director of the Contra Costa Housing Authority, said before an adequate accounting of the housing needs of the elderly could be ascertained for the county, a survey would have to include a larger proportion of older persons by specific areas or communities.

Gertrude H. Hall, director of the council project on aging, said the results of this sample are not conclusive but they do reveal a point of view of some of the older persons who need more adequate housing to serve their present needs.

A MUCH larger proportion of older persons answered the survey from the center part of the county — over two-thirds live in Central Contra Costa, said Miss Hall.

Most of the respondents were women between the ages of 65 and 79. Over 50 per cent live alone.

One-third own homes, while one-half of the group are renting. The rest live with friends or relatives.

Annual incomes of the respondents varied: 12 per cent under $1500; 43 per cent had incomes from $1500 to $3000; six per cent reported $3001 to $5000 and five per cent over $5000.

Over one-third would prefer to live in a senior retirement village with senior center and leisure time facilities.

Thirty-nine per cent reported that they could not afford rent over $45; while four per cent said they would be interested in rentals over $100.

Though many expressed a wish for especially designed housing for the elderly, about one-third hoped to secure small single homes.

Weidner Will Seek Demo Support for Congress

In response to a petition of support signed by 200 central county Democratic Club members, Charles R. Weidner formally announced today that he will submit his name as a candidate for the new 14th Congressional District seat before the pre-primary endorsing convention of the Contra Costa County Federation of Democratic Clubs March 3 in Concord.

In addition to an afirmation of support, the petition said in part, "We know Chuck as a neighbor and a highly respected and dedicated community leader. We believe that Chuck is the candidate who can inspire and unite the Democratic party in a winning campaign. We further pledge to work wholeheartedly in his campaign to defeat the Republican in November."

WEIDNER, a seven-year resident and active Democrat in the Pleasant Hill area, is a consultant and administrator for union-employer negotiated health programs and pension plans. He formerly served as administrator of the Public Assistance Medical Care Program in Contra Costa County.

A vice president of the Pleasant Hill Lions Club, Weidner is international relations chairman for the 48-club Lions International District in Contra Costa and Alameda Counties and is the district's liaison with the Peace Corps. He is also on the executive committee of the International Student Council of Contra Costa County, an organization which provides assistance and orientation to foreign students attending colleges in the county.

A six year member of the organized camp committee of the Diablo Valley Girl Scout Council, Weidner has been a leader in recruiting community support for the site maintenance and development program of Camp Sierra Woodlands.

WEIDNER, 43, is a graduate of the University of Minnesota with fields of study in economics, political sicence and sociology. He and his wife of 21 years, Diane, have three daughters: Sue, a student at Antioch College in Ohio; Jane and Lin, students at College Park High School in Pleasant Hill.

In announcing his candidacy Weidner stated, "Contra Costa County must have the kind of representation in Congress that only a Democrat can provide. Republican Congressman Baldwin, by voting with the Republican-Dixiecrat coalition on the large majority of issues on which this coalition functioned, has opposed President Kennedy's leadership in solving the critical issues facing the United States at home and abroad. The new 14th District needs a new congressman."

"Upon receiving the endorsement of the Democratic Clubs of Contra Costa County," Weidner continued, "we will embark on a vigorous, united campaign which will demonstrate visibly to the voters of the district how positive, progressive Democrtic leadership in Congress can assist President Kennedy in shaping his program so that this country can courageously meet the challenge of our times."

TV Teaching Now Being Studied by St. Mary's College

New techniques in teaching college biology by closed circuit TV are now under experimentation at St. Mary's College, Brother S. Lawrence, F.S.C., associate professor of biology, announced this week.

Under a grant of $8000 from the Educational Facilities Laboratories, an agency of the Ford Foundation, the investigation is centering on potential uses of TV during, not as a substitute for, classroom lectures and laboratory sessions.

Topics under study include TV microscopy, correlation of TV with other audiovisual aids, and ideal laboratory layout for TV instruction.

Charitable Groups Have To File Report

Charitable, religious, social, and educational organizations must file information returns on Form 599 to report to the Franchise Tax Board salaries of $1500 or more paid to single employees, or $3000 or more paid to married employees.

State Controller Alan Cranston, board chairman, said the returns must be filed even though such organizations are themselves exempt from tax.

Copies of Federal Form W-2 may be used instead of Form 599 if the W-2 clearly indicates whether the employee is single or married.

This Hour Meeting Could Save The Lives of Your Children

Guns are a problem in this area, just as they are in any other area. Perhaps more so, because many residents have moved out here for the "country" atmosphere, which is rapidly disappearing.

And this brings us to the problem of youngsters and guns. As you probably know, it is illegal for a youngster to shoot any kind of gun, including a BB gun, without the direct supervision of an adult.

But there is more to it than that. Does your youngster know how to handle a gun? Or do you, for that matter?

NEXT MONDAY night at 8 p.m. in the Acalanes High School cafeteria there will be an hour-long meeting that may save the life of one of your youngsters, or one of his friends.

It would be a good investment of your time.

At that time The Sun, in cooperation with the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's Club, will present The Sun Father-Son Rifle Safety Night. This does not mean that you or your youngsters are going to get a complete hunter safety course, but you will get an outline of these courses.

AND, IF YOU ARE interested in having a hunter safety course held in your community, send your name to The Sun and we will, in turn, help to set up a course in conjunction with others.

But first things first. Give serious thought to joining other parents in the area Monday night at Acalanes High School, and we can all explore the problem together.

And bring your youngsters.

DON'T DO IT, SON!

IS IT THE parents' fault or the child's? If you leave firearms where your children can get at them, and there is an accident, whose fault is it? On the other hand, children should be taught to respect guns. Sun cartoon by Gene Shehorn.

How Do WE Feel?

It is awfully easy to criticize somebody else, especially when they can't answer back.

And it is equally easy for us to overlook our faults in the process of criticizing others.

It is easy, for example, to criticize South Africa for Apartheid . . . or Montgomery, Alabama, for the racial problems which exist down there.

We are shocked about what we read, and what we hear, and we are critical.

BUT LET'S face the facts. If we take a closer look at our own situation, don't we find segregation, intolerance and bigotry at work right here in our own area?

We do discriminate here, and we should be honest about it. And this is not limited to Negroes, but includes orientals and persons of Mexican or Spanish descent, too.

On the other hand, we have found the answers to some of the questions.

Consider the residents of the Eichler development in Walnut Creek, where a mixture of national heritages and races live in harmony on the same block. This proves that it can be done.

BUT IT PROVES one other thing; that just because somebody "different" moves in next door, property values don't have to drop. They certainly haven't out there.

This is National Brotherhood week, and it is time for each of us to sit down and take a good look at our opinions on this subject.

And maybe it's time for a change.

Potentially Dangerous!

You may not be aware of it, but you are living on what could be a potentially dangerous situation.

And that, friends, is rabies.

As of last week, five rabid skunks had been located in the Lafayette-Orinda area. And these are only the ones that were found. There are undoubtedly more roaming around in the hills.

ALSO, those hills stretch right over into Alamo - Danville - Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill areas, so none of us is out of the picture.

The county health department is not overly concerned about the situation, but has warned homeowners to be aware of the situation and to keep a close eye on the family pet. There is only one relatively sure precautionary measure that you can take, and that is to have your pet inoculated.

If you have a dog, he must be inoculated by county law.

Here is the problem: Rabies is slow to show up in an animal which has been infected. If your pet—especially a dog—is out at night or (less hazardous) in the daytime, he could be bitten by a rabid animal.

Now, if he has not been immunized, he could infect one of your children simply through contact with saliva in an open cut—on the hand for example.

Or, he could, in the later stages, bite other neighborhood animals, thus exposing other families, unwittingly, to the same dangers.

So, take a close look at the situation in your home.

And if you have any doubts, check with the county health office or your vet.

And for heaven's sake, inoculate your dog!

The Funeral Custom

By NORMAN COLBY

Re-examination of our funeral customs which has been called for the Central Contra Costa County Council of Churches. Emphasized are simple and inexpensive funerals, the making of a will beforehand, bequeathing of the body to medical research and a therapeutic expression of grief.

Several discussions on improving the procedures of the funeral have been held by the Council members, most of whom are ministers, fathers and the local sportsmen's groups and rabbis.

"We urge our people not to lavish their money upon expensive funerals," a Council letter says.

"BY BEING conservative in cost, the frequently limited funds of the family will be able also to meet the needs of the living. Let us recognize that ordinarily this would be the desire of the deceased," said the Council letter.

The Christian will can be a means by which the deceased can express a "continued expression of . . . stewardship to God."

"You may continue your service to God and humanity by bequeathing all or part of the body to medical research and healing.

"Advance arrangements may be made with schools of medicine or eye banks and bone banks, or this can be done immediately following death . . . "

THE IDEA that grief for the passing of a beloved one should be borne stoically and without a sign is rejected by the Church Council.

" . . . you will need to express your grief. It is dangerous to your mental, emotional and spiritual health to keep your grief to yourself.

"Share it with relatives and friends. Express your feelings honestly through visits and writing of letters. At this time of need we can serve through what Protestants call 'the priesthood of all believers' . . . "

The Council message has other advice which is of practical value to local residents. The Council's office is at 2900 Bonifacio Street, Concord.

The New Twister Was The Old Black Bottom

By MARIE MONAHAN

ON THE DANCE FLOOR these days, it don't mean a thing if you ain't got that Swing!

Remember the Dance Marathon days of the Jitterbug era —with the Zoot Suiters, the Reat Pleat, the watch chain draggin' on the ground . . . & Sam, you made the pants too long!

A MARATHON of Dance memories: Remember the Sharpies & Finale-Hoopers?

The Sharpies wore bell-bottom trousers, shoe-string ties & sideburns while the Ivy Leaguers of another terpsichorean time, the Finale Hoopers, wore brogues, belted Norfolk jackets, flannels & foullards.

OR WAS YOURS the time of the Gabardine Guys & Tea Dancing on Saturday & Sunday afternoons? In New York at the Plaza or at the plain old Palace in San Francisco? If you didn't dance at least three times a weekend, something was Very Wrong!

Whatever happened to Irene & Vernon Castle & their gliding Castle Waltz?

Remember George Raft, Carole Lombard & their sensasational searing Bolero?

RUDOLPH VALENTINO & The Tango?

Does your memory include (EGAD!) Gaby Deslys, one of the greatest gal dancers, who took Europe by storm, the Mistinguette of her time . . .?

OR NAUTCH DANCER (Nautchy But Belly Nice) Mata Hari, the Gamia Samal of her day, who was executed as a German Spy during World War I . . . ?

WANNA GO farther back to Little Egypt who shimmied at the World's Fair Midway in Chicago . . . or Ida Mazeppa who twisted in tights while riding a white horse on a treadmill for her audience of miners, Forty-Niners?

MY TIME was that of the dancing shoes of a doll named Ginger Rogers & her partner Fred Astaire . . . When every little girl went to bed dreaming that she's grow up to dance like Ginger . . . or least LOOK like her!

Remember "Collegiate, Collegiate, Yes! We Are Collegiate! Nothing Intermedjit. Collegiate, RAH! Rah! Rah!" . . .

That was the time of the Charleston, a dance that's really never lost its lustre with the hardwood hoofers . . .

Remember the Turkey Trot, the Lambeth Walk & the Lindy Hop . . . ?

WHATEVER became of the Shimmy Shake, the Shag & the Shuffle Off To Buffalo?

For that matter, haven't seen a Rhumba 'round in a long time & what happened to the Carioca & The Cake Walk?

REMEMBER Bojangles Robinson, the Greatest Tap Dancer of our time & when it comes to the Soft Shoe, you still can't beat Bolger!

ASTAIRE is still going strong & who wouldn't STILL like to look like Ginger? Fred & his sister Adele were a superlative team & she became Lady Cavendish of London Society.

There was Veloz and Yolande, famous dance team, who are still going strong with a chain of dance schools & we almost forgot the Fox Trot . . .

GUN LAWS
Dear Editor:

I want to thank you for your article in the February 16 issue of The Sun regarding guns, ammunition and minors.

The laws available to protect residents of Contra Costa County from deliberate or accidental shooting by minors seem insufficient, and those on the books do not seem strongly enough enforced.

Recently a hole was put through my kitchen window by a boy under 16, unsupervised by an adult, who was shooting a BB gun within 150 feet of a dwelling (not mine). At the time I was sitting next to the window so that my head was right in line with the hole.

The only thing which protected me from glass splinters was the fact that we have a screen on the inside of that pane.

As the mother of a child of 18 months I was extremely upset to know that BB shot could be bouncing around my yard. Naturally I contacted the County Sheriff's Office and a deputy was sent out. As I was new to Contra Costa County and had never been shot at before, I asked the deputy whether there were any laws concerning the use of guns by minors in residential areas.

I received the distinct impression that there were not. Your article shows, however, that there are in fact two laws which governed this situation. In fact, the deputy said that I appeared unreasonably upset and that it was "un-neighborly" of me to consider invoking a law.

He offered to speak to the parents, which he did, and the parents have been extremely cooperative on this matter. In spite of their genuine good will I do not feel sufficiently protected from this boy, or others in the neighborhood, forgetting or neglecting the rules.

Indeed, I feel it is downright un-neighborly of anyone, more or less than 16 years old, to shoot any kind of gun in a residential area since there is always a danger of accident.

If the parents of young boys are unable or unwilling to enforce the rules regarding the use of firearms by minors, and if for reasons of "good neighborliness" the sheriff's office is unwilling to inform residents of the law, or to enforce the law, then I believe a law prohibiting sale of any and all firearms to minors should be put on the books.

EXTREME RIGHT
Dear Editor:

Accepting your invitation for comment; of late the very air has been over-heavy with extreme fear of the "Extreme Right" as compared to the extremely rationalized shrugging-off of the dangers of the "Extreme Left."

Hearings of the subcommittee of the committee on the judiciary, U. S. Senate, of July, 1961 states that the new coordinated, aggressive Red anti-anti-Communist drive was launched by the Red Manifesto, December, 1960, quite openly.

The Manifesto ordered a frontal attack on the anti-Communist movement through such artifices as the creating of conditioned reflexes. Constant attacks on the so-called "Extreme Right" creates just such a climate.

I could order a roomful of men to take their coats off and they would do as they pleased, but if I went outside and turned the thermostat up, they'd all soon start removing their coats without my saying a word. That would be a conditioned reflex through a created climate.

LET'S NOT jump aboard the bandwagon just because we have been unknowingly conditioned to join what seems to be the latest sophisticated trend.

Let's think and act as individuals, which is not being extreme, and avoid blanket indictments of whole groups because of the words of an individual member. Every organization has its quota of odd-balls.

FAIR COVERAGE
Dear Editor:

Just a note to offer my personal thanks for the very fine news coverage you gave the Pleasant Hill incorporation movement. I am confident that even those who opposed incorporation could find no fault with your objective and fair analysis of the issues.

You might be interested to know that a recent letter from England advises:

"The neighbor who gave me the Walnut Creek Sun for a farewell present has really gained a place in my heart forever. I've been watching you people do battle from over here and it was just like being in the middle of the thing."

Under The Sun

Can You Spare an Hour for YourChild?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

A few days ago I was sitting at the counter having a cup of coffee and saw Bill Collins, a pharmacist at Lafayette Pharmacy, heading toward me. Bill sat down. He was upset by the recent accidental death of a young boy in Orinda by his other young friend.

"Herman, do you know that this is the fifth gun accident in this end of the county since the first of the year?" asked Bill. "At least two and possibly a third resulted in deaths. I wonder if there is anything I can do?"

Bill does not know any of the families involved in any of the deaths. But Bill has an idea.

Help for the community

"There are very few ways I can contribute to my fellow man and to my community. When it comes to guns, I think I can contribute in some small ways because I know guns and safety," Bill added.

Bill told me about the Hunter Safety Courses that he and his friends conduct from time to time.

I asked Bill if he thought it would be a good idea to hold a short Rifle and Gun Safety meeting for fathers and children.

He said that "A friend and I conducted a similar meeting in Pleasant Hill recently and it drew over 300," he answered. "Of course, you can't provide a four-hour, hunter safety course plus range experience in 60 minutes."

Here's how it all started

From this coffee conversation has grown The Sun's Father and Son Rifle Safety Night—at Acalanes High School cafeteria at 8 p.m., next Monday, February 26.

This is being presented in cooperation with the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's Club, whose two members, Bill Collins and President Jim Monk, will conduct the program. (See first page and editorial for further information.)

Can you spare an hour that might save the life of your child and/or yourself?

Bill said that children whose parents do not have guns are most welcome and should come.

"It is important that all young people know a little about guns for their safety. Perhaps their neighbor owns guns," he explained.

I asked Bill if some of the adult hunters could use instruction.

"I wouldn't go hunting with every man who handles a gun," Bill replied.

Not as dangerous as freeways

Is a gun safe? How about hunting?

"Hunting is not as dangerous as driving a car on some freeways," Bill answered. But people must know how to handle guns.

Are hunting safety courses available?

Bill answered that he thought enough adults would be willing to volunteer for such instruction, if there is sufficient demand. There is a problem of finding enough qualified instructors.

If you are interested in such a course, send your name to me at The Sun.

Meanwhile, I'll see you Monday night at Acalanes.

GROWING UP
Dear Editor:

(Ed Note: The following letter was sent to Sun Columnist Marie Monahan following her column on "Why Are Dick and Jane Growing Up Too Fast?", February 2 issue of The Sun.)

Dear Mrs. Monahan:

I read with great interest your column entitled "Why Are Dick and Jane Growing Up Too Fast?" in the February 2 issue of The Sun. My children are not at THAT age yet, but I see the problem you point out looming up in my future. I am convinced that the best solution for this problem is for like-minded mothers (and fathers) to band together and make rules for their children to follow, regardless of what somebody else's Dick and Jane are doing.

When my time comes for taking on this social evil, I hope I will find many other mothers with ideas as sane as yours.

MRS. ROBT. KAHN.

GOOF!
Dear Editor:

On February 16, lacking originality on your own part, you reprinted another editor's list of pet peeves—and asked readers to send their peeves to you.

I'll start the list with two of them—which I feel are shared by many other readers.

February 16 issue—editorial "County Should Pass Gun, Ammo Law," right hand column, it states "You will find other aspects of this problem discussed in Under The Sun on the right hand side of this page . . ." If you can find anything about the subject of guns and ammo in the February 16 Under The Sun column you got a different newspaper than I did.

The other complaint, which is less often a problem with The Sun than with some of the local daily papers, is when you run out of space and end an article in the middle of a sentence. Or when you say "Continued page 4"—and forget to continue the story.

ROBERT KAHN

COMMUNISM
Dear Editor:

In reference to her letter in today's (February 9) Sun, I'd just like to say that Marion Powelson certainly looks at things from a biased point of view.

She implies, for instance, that we in the United States should have loaned Sun Yat Sen $2,000,000 to get his government in China functioning back in the days of the Harding administration, but she admits she knows our country was busy with its internal problems at that time.

It is unfortunate that the Russians took advantage of our being busy at the time and themselves loaned the money to Sun, but those Russians always have been sneaky and unreliable like that!

Marion Powelson probably also advocates that we should have been the ones to help Castro get his regime going in Cuba, or that we should now lend the Dominican Republic the $25,000,000 it needs to organize its government on democratic lines . . . things like that.

Can't she understand that we still have big internal problems to cope with? Like preventing the spread of Communism?

MRS. ROBERT F. SUCZEK

Dear Reader Kahn: To take your points in order:

1. It is not always within the realm of talent or time to be original. We shall try to compose our own list of gripes after this.

2. We read the same issue. My (Associate Editor Dick Osborn) goof. Originally the the editorial was to tie in with the Under The Sun column. Plans were changed and that sentence was not deleted from the editorial which was set in type.

3. We are glad we are not the major offenders in this respect. This can be a difficult problem for any newspaper, especially when the page numbers change from edition to edition. There is no excuse, however, for ever ending a story in the middle of a sentence.

Easter Fair Is Coming

Children's Hospital of the East Bay Easter Fair will open March 2 at the Claremont Hotel with more than the usual fanfare.

This year, the sponsoring branches of Children's Hospital of the East Bay have combined their traditional salute to spring with cheers for the red, white and blue.

They plan to end their three-day gala on an equally colorful note—with decirations at the closing tea dance featuring the traditional gold and white, commemorating the hospital's 50th anniversary.

The fair opens and closes to music, with much melody in between. The result—three fun-packed days of events guaranteed to thrill thousands of northern Californians before the fair closes on March 4.

Leading the parade of exciting events will be the U.S. Air Force Dance Orchestra. During Easter Fair season, the 17-man musical group will be touring the west from their home base in Washington, D.C. Eye-catching in their uniforms, they will provide sprightly rhythms during the buffet luncheon which preceres the high-styled fashion show, Friday, March 2.

The orchestra provides music for many White House events and performed in the film, "The Glenn Miller Story."

SPRING FASHION LUNCHEON—Styles from I. Magnin & Company will be shown against a red, white and blue background, a tribute to the Air Force musicians. Tickets for the event—which includes the concert, luncheon and fashion show are $5 per person. Tables for four, six, eight or ten persons are available and all tables are reserved. Tickets may be obtained by sending a check, payable to Children's Hospital of the East Bay, and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. John O. Rosefield, 6449 Estates Drive, Oakland 11.

MELODIOUS MYSTERY MEDICS — The names of the stars of this show are a secret, but the word's out that it will be one of the "swingingest" events ever presented at Easter Fair. Performances by talented Bay Area physicians will benefit the hospital. Tickets for the Melodious Mystery Medics are $1.75 per person. The show begins at 8:30 p.m. Friday, March 2.

SUB-DEB FASHION SHOW —The latest in "cooky" classroom and party clothes will be shown by some of the Bay Area's prettiest teenagers at 2:30 p.m., Saturday, March 3. Sather Gate Apparel in Berkeley will provide the fashions: the models will come from the hospital's junior branches. Tickets for this popular event are $1.25 each.

GASLIGHT GAIETIES—Featuring The Strugglers, a band from San Francisco's Red Garter, while games of skill and blackouts (brief, entertaining, on-stage sketches) will heighten the entertainment. The show begins at 8:30 p.m. and tickets are $2.50 per person.

DANCIN' WITH ANSON — Easter Fair will close on a nostalgic note, with a 5:30 p.m. tea dance to the music of Anson Weeks, Sunday, March 4. Weeks' popular orchestra has been playing in the Bay Area since many of today's grandma's were debutantes, and his Easter Fair appearance is always popular. This year, adding to the nostalgic atmosphere, the decorations will be themed in traditional gold and white, commemorating the hospital's 50th anniversary.

Tickets are $7.50 per couple. Reservations may be made now by sending a check, payable to Children's Hospital of the East Bay, and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Bernarr Wilson, 25 Wisteria Way, Piedmont.

Admissions to the table-setting exhbition, including the art-in-action demonstrations, will be 75 cents per person.

Hill Jr. Branch Offers Course in Interior Design

By popular request, a third series of lectures in interior decorating will be offered by Hill Junior Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay, beginning March 9. The public is invited to attend.

Interior designer John Wheatman again will conduct the course in the third floor auditorium of Jackson's, 14th and Clay Streets, Oakland. Classes will be held on March 9, 16, 23 and 30 and April 6 and 13 from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

A capsule version of a university course in interior design, these lessons are unique in escaping the limits of the classroom, says Wheatman. Students arriving each Friday will find examples af the day's topic displayed against the "neutral background" of the auditorium.

Emphasis throughout the six lectures will be on coordination in home planning—decorating the entire home to reflect individual personality, space and site. One lecture will be devoted to the always interesting and all-important subject of color in fabric and floorings. Another will explain the use of decorative accessories for both accent and harmony. Useful information on lighting and storage will be offered in another.

Because enrollment in this third course is again limited to 100 persons, reservations should be made immediately, according to Mrs. Bernarr Wilson of Piedmont, project chairman.

Tickets for the series are $9 each. They may be obtained from Mrs. Wilson at 25 Wisteria Way, Piedmont.

Mrs. Franlu H. Wright of Orinda is a lecture series committee member.

Earnings from the lecture series in interior decorating will benefit the part-pay program at Children's Hospital of the East Bay. This program offers medical assistance to children from families of limited financial means.

Frat Mothers Will Present Fashion Show

The Mothers' Club of Beta Theta Pi at the University of California will give a luncheon and fashion show to raise funds for a new house Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. at the chapter house in Berkeley.

Members of the fraternity from Orinda are Bob Hudson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Miles Hudson and Randy Thaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thaman.

Clothes from George Good will be modeled by Beta pledges and women's fashions from Bernice Dinwiddie will be shown by sorority girls and members of the mothers' club.

Tickets at $3 may be obtained by calling Mrs. Robert Thaman at CL 4-2608. Chairman of the event is Mrs. A. J. Dolan of San Francisco.

Luncheon Will Benefit AFS

Town and Country Woman's Club of Lafayette gave a card party and luncheon for the benefit of American Field Service Wednesday in the Masonic Hall in Lafayette. Mrs. Hardy Wandesforde, the club's ways and means chairman, says the party is open to guests.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Wandesforde at 283-6751 or Mrs. Robert Hoole at 284-4878.

Felchlin to Attend Committee Meet

The Anna Head School Diamong Jubilee Committee will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the school in Berkeley. James A. Felchlin of Orinda is among committee members expected to attend.

SIX-YEAR-OLD Phillip Mashy pushes a switch to open a taped concert by the U.S. Air Force Dance Orchestra at Children's Hospital of the East Bay. Opening the hospital's annual Easter Fair will be a "live concert" by the famed military band. Tuning in with Phillip are (from left) Mrs. Thomas M. Howard and Mrs. Robert W. Field, both of Orinda and Lombardy Branch, and Capt. Reginald Shinn of Travis Air Force Base. Easter Fair will be held March 2-4 at Berkeley's Hotel Claremont for the benefit of Children's Hospital of the East Bay, where Phillip, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mashy of 286 San Benito, Walnut Creek, is a patient.

Informal Dinner Party Celebrates Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Varone of 1200 Geary Road, Walnut Creek, announced the engagement of their daughter, Gisela, to Larry Gordon Scott at an informal dinner party in their home.

The bride-elect came to this country from Rotterdam, Holland, in 1956. Her father is a master mariner. She was graduated from Las Lomas High School and is studying apparel design at Diablo Valley College.

Larry is the son of Robert W. Scott of Seattle, Washington and Mrs. Ethel M. Bisso of Concord. He is a graduate of Diablo High School and attended Diablo Valley College.

He received the Pleasant Hill Kiwanis Club trophy in 1960 for academic and leadership qualities as well as sports ability as a wingback at Mt. Diablo High. He plans to attend the University of Seattle.

Miss Neuhaus Heads Jr. Prom

Miss Cynthia Neuhaus of 627 Miner Road in Orinda is chairman of the forthcoming Junior Prom at Wellesley College in Wellesley, Mass.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Neuhaus, she was graduated from the Anna Head School in Berkeley and is majoring in English at Wellesley. Her campus activities include membership in the choir and on the governing council of her dormitory.

Pick Beauty Chairmen

Committee chairmen for the 1962 Miss Contra Costa County Beauty Pageant to be held May 12 in Walnut Creek have been announced by Jerry Stollar, pageant executive director.

A Contra Costa girl will be chosen during judging at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center to represent her county at the Miss California Pageant in Santa Cruz June 23 to July 1.

Pageant sponsor is the Walnut Creek Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

'MISS CONTRA Costa" will receive a $250 scholarship, and other scholarships will go to three runners-up, said Stollar.

"Our new chairmen will work hard to make this the county's most memorable beauty pageant, at the same time maintaining the event's traditional dignity and charm," said Stollar.

His chairmen:

Robert Quinn, entries committee, which will welcome the girls entering the contest, inform of the rules and see that they are informed of all preliminary events.

ART KEITHLEY, staging committee, which will prepare for the preliminary event the week of April 16, and the Beauty Pageant Show, May 12.

Roscoe Jeffrey, awards and sponsors committee, which will arrange prizes and direct the selection of judges within the next month.

Ross Dahl, sponsors committee, which will donate funds and will each be identified publicly with one of the 12 competing finalists.

Art Harvey and Jack Pillsbury, co-chairmen of the program committee which will arrange entertainment to accompany the beauty pageant show.

DENNIS Bailey and Ed Kinney, public relations committee.

Norman Colby, publicity committee.

Chaperoning will be provided by the Walnut Creek Jayceettes, wives of Jaycees who have their own organization.

"Now is the time for the girls in this county to enter the pageant," said Stollar.

GIRLS entering will be contacted in March and will be told about the preliminary event to be held in the middle of April, he said.

Margie Hill of Antioch was Contra Costa's 1961 winner.

"The main purpose of the pageant," said Stollar, "is to give the girls an opportunity to receive a higher education through the scholarships awarded on the local, state and national levels."

The state winner in the Santa Cruz competition will represent California in the famous Miss America Pageant to be held Labor Day weekend in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

THIS IS one of the most famous pageants in the United States.

"Girls are eligible if they are 18 to 28 years old, have never been married, have been county residents for at least six months or are attending college in this county.

Judging will be in three classes —gowns, bathing suits and talent."

NAMES of candidates for the Miss Contra Costa Beauty Pageant are being compiled by Jerry Stollar, at left, pageant director and member of the sponsoring Walnut Creek Jaycees, shown with Mrs. Stollar, president of the Jayceettes, and Burt Daniels, Jaycee president. The pageant will be held May 12 in Walnut Creek. Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Stollar said, "Girls interested need only call, write or visit their local chamber of commerce offices, which have offered their facilities to assist the pageant candidates. Letters should be addressed to the "Pageant Committee."

"CHAMBER office addresses and phone numbers may be found in the phone book.

"In the central county, the girls can contact their chamber offices or the chamber office at 1359 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, where entry blanks will be available.

"On request, entry blanks will be sent through the mail.

"Some persons may wish to nominate candidates. They may do this by contacting the pageant committee."

The Miss America Pageant Committee was organized in 1921 in Atlantic City, was discontinued during the depression and resumed in 1934. The new emphasis on scholarships and educational benefits to the competing girls was introduced in 1945.

Shriners Pick New Officers

Dr. Robert Hendee of Antioch has been installed as president of the Contra Costa Shrine Club, succeeding Thomas Hazlett.

Other officers include William Faulkner of Walnut Creek, first vice president; Ed Page of Pleasant Hill, second vice president; William Riggs of Walnut Creek, secretary-treasurer.

'Randy' and Owner Gain Unique Dog World Honor

The Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club announced that Mrs. George D. Sauter and "Randy," a Shetland sheep dog, owner bred, trained and handled, recently received their second "Dog World Award of Distinction."

These awards are approved by the Board of Review of the Dog World Magazine.

To qualify for these honors Mrs. Sauter entered "Randy" in three consecutive American Kennel Club registered obedience shows, earning a score of 195 or better out of a possible 200 to win a Champion Degree, repeating the same procedure of three more obedience matches to win a CDX degree.

To prove his merit for these awards "Randy" earned a perfect score of 200 at the Santa Clara Obedience Show in August of 1961 to qualify for his first CDX "leg."

Being awarded two Dog World Awards of Distinction is considered an amazing accomplishment, especially considering "Randy" was only 11 months old when he received his CD degree and a year and a half old when he completed his CDX work in November 1961.

President Robert McCarthy said the next club meeting will be a pot-luck supper at the Walnut Creek Sportsmen Club March 10 at 6:30 p.m.

Hostesses are Mr. and Mrs. John Fagundas, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bispham and Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Alleman.

Name Change For Road Is Private Affair

A superior court suit by Miss Mabel Kuss to prevent Danville property owners from changing the name of Kuss Road has been dismissed.

The road is privately owned, and the county has no jurisdiction, Judge Wakefield Taylor ruled.

The residents changed the name to Clipper Hill Road.

Antioch, Pitt Virtually Deadlocked in the CCD

Victim of a second upset in two weeks, Pittsburg found its league leading position in the Contra Costa Division threatened by Antioch this week.

Clayton Valley pulled the rug from under the high-flying Pirates last Friday night, 49-47, to move Antioch to within a half-game of the Pitt crew.

Pittsburg is now 8-2 while Antioch is 7-2. Clayton Valley moved into third place tie with idle Mt. Diablo by virtue of the unexpected triumph. The Eagles and Red Devils are both 5-4.

CLAYTON Valley snapped a three game winning streak for the Pirates who had run up 76, 89 and 78 points in picking up the victories.

Antioch had edged Pittsburg, 56-52, on February 2 when it seemed the steel city five was going to make a farce of the CCD race. The Pirates had won five league games with little trouble prior to that contest.

In an other game Friday night, College Park picked up win number four with a decisive, 56-35, triumph over Pacifica. A loss would have dropped the Falcons down to sixth place in the league standings.

Pleasant Hill, at the rear of the CCD pack, lost its ninth league game in 10 starts as Antioch kept pace with the Pirates, 38-29.

CLAYTON VALLEY 49
PITTSBURG 47

Dick Ewing scored on a driving layoup with just three seconds to go to giving the Eagles their narrow victory over the league leaders.

Clayton Valley wasted no time showing the Pirates they meant business, jumping to a 20-13 lead at the end of one quarter and holding the lead until late in the game.

Pittsburg closed the gap to two points, 31-29, at the half, but trailed going into the final quarter, 39-35. The Pirates finally caught the Eagles in the final stanza, but the comeback went for naught on Ewing's two-pointer.

Jack Furr of Clayton Valley took game scoring honors with 14 points. Ewing finished with 12 points and Jerry Cross with 10 more.

Frank Bruno had 11 for Pitt.

ANTIOCH 38
PLEASANT HILL 29

The Rams fell behind in the opening quarter and then suffered a fourth quarter scoring drought when it looked like they might catch the Panthers, dropping their ninth game in 10 tries.

Antioch led, 10-9, at the quarter and 19-14 at the half. It was 29-24 and still anyone's game going into the final quarter. However, the Rams could muster only five points in the final period.

Glen Graham had 11 points points to pace Pleasant Hill.

Butch Rounsaville had another good night, finishing with 17 points.

COLLEGE PARK 56
PACIFICA 35

Led by Mickey Sytkowski's 21 points, the Falcons coasted to an easy fourth win after a tight first quarter.

It was 12-10 for the Pleasant Hill crew at the end of the opening session, but an 18-8 scoring edge in the second eight minutes put the game on ice as the Spartans had trouble finding the range.

Art Miller and Roger Mower helped Sytkowski in the scoring department with 11 and 10 points respectively. Bob Ament had eight more.

Herb Meeks finished with 14 points for the inept Spartans.

Acalanes Frosh Beat San Ramon

Acalanes frosh handed San Ramon a 34-18 rout last Friday in the Foothill League.

The Dons have a season record of 4-1-.

Las Lomas, 4-2, suffered a 35-22 loss against Piedmont.

Dave Allasia and Dave Maurer led the Knights with nine and seven points respectively. Piedmont maintained a 12-point lead throughout the last three periods.

San Ramon nipped Del Valle, 25-23, also last Friday. The Trojans are 0-6 while the Wolves are 2-4.

Center Bob Johnson scored 12 points and led Miramonte past Alhambra by a large margin of 44-27.

Forwards Mike Howard and Tom Unruh each tallied six for the Mats.

Miramonte has a season record of 2-2.

Robinson Leads Miramonte JVs Over Alhambra

Forward Rod Robinson scored 21 points while leading the Miramonte JVs to a fourth straight victory over Alhambra, 46-25, last Friday.

Bob Young added nine points in the winning effort. The Mats are undefeated in league play.

Acalanes behind a 17-point effort by John Sammann dealt a crushing defeat to San Ramon, 52-21.

Acalanes is 4-1 and San Ramon is 2-4 in league play.

Las Lomas, 5-1, smashed Piedmont, 35-27.

Knight Steve Miles scored 17 points followed by Dave Reynolds with eight tallies.

Las Lomas allowed Piedmont only two points in each of the first and second quarters and had a 24-4 halftime advantage.

Despite their 7-0 record in capturing the high school league title in the Pleasant Hill YMCA recreation circuit, the Suburban Youth Crusaders fell before the onslaught of the First All Stars by a score of 62-43 Saturday night.

Doug Brown led the scoring for the winners with a total of 23 points while Keesch and Rinno shared honors for the Crusaders with 13 apiece.

Meanwhile, the third-place Knights outplayed the 2nd All Stars after a sluggish start, to win a low-scoring contest, 36-30. Bob Gillham and Rich Holmes were high for the winners with only 9 points each while Dolliver paced the losers with four field goals for a total of 8.

Hillside Covenant came from behind to win over Concord Church of the Nazarene, 67-47. The Nazarene eagers played to a 15-15 standoff at the end of the first period and pulled ahead of the Hillsiders; 31 to 25 at the half. The Hillside team ripped off 42 points in the last half to win.

Bergeson flipped in 10 field goals and a pair of charity tosses to lead the winners with 22 points. Sonders was high for Nazarene with 18 points.

In the other game of the post-season event, Suburban Bible ran roughshod over Suburban Church of United Brethren, 102-44. The lopsided contest gave Mel Simpson a chance to roll up 34 points, all from the floor. The Bible squad won the Mixed League crown with a 4-1 mark.

Four Games Remain for DVC Cagers

Diablo Valley College is on the road this weekend for games at Hartnell College in Salinas tonight and at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow tonight. The Vikings return home for a game with Menlo College Tuesday before closing out the season next Friday at Vallejo College.

At present, DVC is 5-5 in the Coast Conference with four games to play. The Vikings are 13-9 overall.

Last Friday night, DVC rolled over Cabrillo College, 80-69, avenging an earlier defeat by the Watsonville quintet.

Tom Nichols, the Vikings' top scorer all year, had his biggest night of the season, scoring 32 points.

DVC held a slim, 32-29 lead at halftime, but unleashed a devastating second half offensive that rolled up 48 points.

Sam Coston followed Nichols in the scoring department with 16 points. George Smylie chipped in with 11 more.

Three Team Race Shapes Up in Danville League

Shoe Stable maintained its lead over two pursuers in the Danville League by winning two games last week—one on a forfeit. The leaders have just four games to play.

Led by the sharpshooting of John Stimel, Shoe Stable wrecked winless Vern S. Ryan, 65-50, and then picked up a win the easy way over Carter Glass. It was the first forfeit in the four-year history of the league.

Stimel picked up 33 points against Ryan as Shoe Stable outscored Ryan, 22-7, in the second quarter for a 38-20 halftime lead.

Aerojet kept hot on the trail by edging Martinez, 78-74, in a wild, see-saw battle. Aerojet trailed, 46-42, going into the final quarter.

MARTINEZ had won four games in a row prior to the Aerojet game.

Bill Lloyd, Bill Way and Berb Kiger were the whole show for Aerojet, scoring 22, 21 and 19 points, respectively. Acalanes coach, Bert Barnett, took game honors, however, with 25 points for Martinez.

Diamond Building won two games last week to run their record to 6-3 and gained a firm grip on third place.

They bounced Carter, 71-54, and then overcame Martinez, 60-45, with a fast finish. Roger Pliler paced the win over Carter with 21 points while Bob Gomez and John Longacker with 19 and 16 were the big guns in the second triumph of the week.

DIAMOND outscored Martinez, 24-7, in the final eight minutes to gain the win.

Pearson Lumber kept from sliding into the league cellar and kept alive a slim hope for a playoff position by downing winless Ryan, 52-41.

Jim Maggart and Terry Taylor paced the winners with 17 points apiece.

Co-ops Continue Winning; Ring Down Curtains

Co-op eagers proved their claims to the adult recreation basketball B loop title Tuesday night when they dominated the championship playoff game to beat the Curtain Shop 62-41.

Led by Steve Oamphere who racked up 22 points, the Co-ops dominated the game in every period and were ahead 31-20 at half-time. Frank Vallarino with 13 points and Jim Gunnison with 13 also contributed to the one-sided victory. Stan Koreck was high on the Curtain pole with 8 points.

Meanwhile, Equitable put up a gallant fight against the Dunkers but lost 52-46. Dave McCluster of the Equitables was the scoring leader with 8 field goals and 2 free tosses for a total of 18 points. His team-mate, Don Jackson, had 14.

The winning Dunkers split the scoring honors three ways: Neale Tratmoe 15, Paul Giles 14 and Paul Goodrich 11. A slow first period proved Equitable's downfall, as they trailed 11-5; they edged the Dunkers the next two frames but could never overcome the lead.

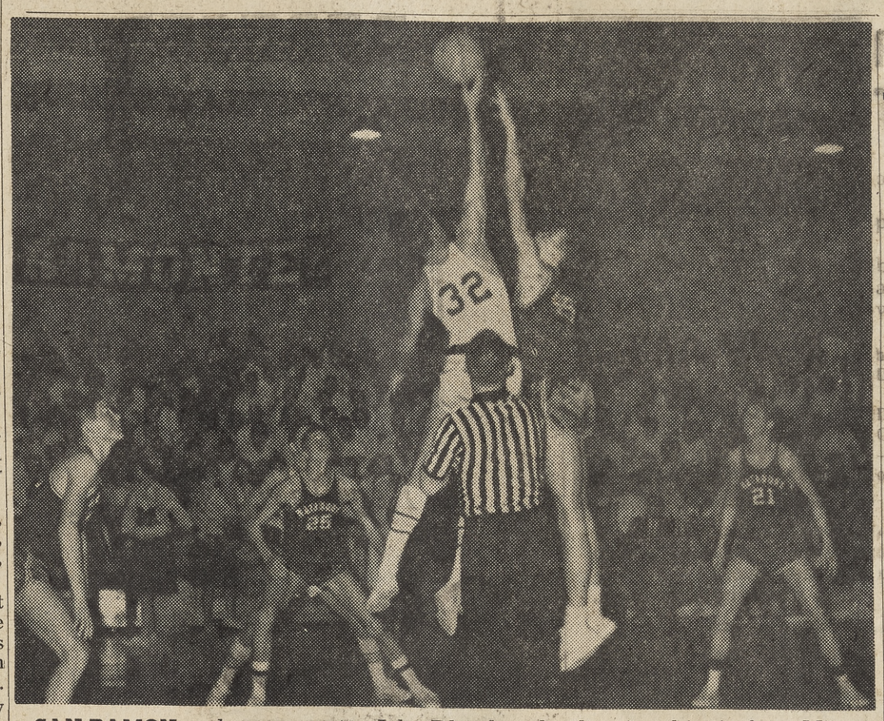
Basketball Bows Out Next Week



SAN RAMON sophomore center John Plumley clearly wins this tip from Miramonte's Eric Unruh, but what is he going to do with the ball? With eyes skyward, three Miramonte players eagerly wait for Plumley to tip the ball. The FAL game, played last Friday night, went to the Wolves, 58-50.

The Ski Line . . . .

A Perfect Weekend of Skiing Is Anticipated

By HEC HANCOCK

To borrow from the vernacular of the astronaut, everything is "go all the way" with Sierra ski conditions.

Translated into the jargon of the skier, it can be said that present ski conditions are absolutely fantastic.

Actually, it's a pretty safe assumption that skiing should be pretty good this weekend!

With snow depths up to 15 feet reported at the higher elevations, the devotees of the slippery boards can for the first time in years allow themselves the luxury of contemplating a long and enjoyable spring ski season. From this point, it would appear there is little to fear by way of contradiction from a usually cantankerous weatherman.

Great hordes of skiers have taken advantage of the singleton holiday, Washington's Birthday, to literally wallow in the abundant white wastes.

For the first time in nearly two years, Milt and Maggie Avilla have their poma lift at Rainbow on Highway 40 in operation. For those looking for a relaxed day of fun skiing, minus the press of the mob, this could be your answer.

Steve Meyers, bossman at Echo Summit Ski Area, reports 70 to 90 inches of pack, with three rope tows and the platter pull operating.

Dodge Ridge has approximately 100 inches. The Sunday Nugget races continue for all who wish to enter.

Sugar Bowl has more than 15 feet of snow atop Mt. Lincoln and over 10 feet on Disney. How great can it get?

Squaw Valley has from four feet on the valley floor to approximately 11 feet on the slopes. The parking lots, barring a further deluge of snow, should be clear for the week end.

The newest entry in the ski resort handicap, Alpine Meadows checks in with a snow pack of 117 inches. All facilities, including the lodge have been completed, and are in full operation. A Great Slalom is scheduled for Sunday. The course is set so that it can easily be watched from the Lodge. What a boom to the ego of struggling schuss boomers this should prove to be!

Heavenly Valley, so long the victim of marginal snow conditions, offers the "Gun Barrel" down the face for the very intrepid to frolic upon.

Yosemite is truly a winter wonderland. Ski conditions are great at Badger Pass, while the Valley is replete in its winter finery. This is something young and old alike should see.

All this is needed now are good highway conditions for the remaining weekends, and we will absolutely have it made.

Orlando Chiavini will spearhead his seventh grade class from Stanley School in Lafayette, when they make their assault on the Squaw Valley slopes this weekend.

This is another "Learn to Ski" trip conducted by Sports & Games of Walnut Creek. This time in addition to the youngsters, I'll have the pleasure of guiding a few of the more hardy of the parents through the easy stages leading to mastery of the frustrating slats.

This isn't an example of togetherness, as much as a case of if you can't beat them, join 'em!

The concept that skiing is only for the young is utter nonsense. All that is required to partake of the joys of the slopes is average co-ordination and the desire.

There's a wonderful world of exhiliration and thrills just waiting for those that venture forth.

Second San Jose Forfeit Doesn't Help St. Mray's

St. Mary's College returns to West Coast Athletic Conference play this weekend for two games in the Southland.

Tonight, the Gaels face league-leading Pepperdine and then take on tough Loyola tomorrow night.

The Gaels, 5-1 in the league, are currently in second place, trailing surprising Pepperdine, 7-1.

Tonight's game is the first meeting of the year between the Gaels and the Waves. St. Mary's has faced Loyola twice, once in league play, and won both times.

St. Mary's held a seemingly comfortable two-game lead in the WCAC prior to last weekend, but Pepperdine changed a loss to a win on a forfeit from San Jose State and then when the Gails were upset by Santa Clara Saturday night, the Waves took the league lead by defeating lowly UOP.

The young Waves were 3-9 last season in the WCAC and not expected to improve too much this season.

Loyola, rated high in the pre-season standings, has been a big disappointment along with Santa Clara.

The Gaels dumped the Lions in the WCAC tournament, then bounced them out of WCAC contention two weeks back in the Oakland Auditorium. Both St. Mary's wins came on last-second baskets.

Santa Clara's Broncos, WCAC tournaments champions and the pre-season choice for the WCAC title, came to life against hated St. Mary's at the San Jose Civic Auditorium for a 71-66 win.

THE WIN gave disappointing Bronco' a 3-4 record. The win was the second of the year for Santa Clara over St. Mary's. They defeated the Gaels in the championship game of the WCAC Christmas tournament.

The Broncos led, 34-23 at half-time in the rough and tumble game, then opened up an 18-point lead midway through the second half and staggered home.

Gene Shields, 6-8 Bronco center, had 22 points.

Walnut Hills Ladies' Club Names Officers

Ladies Golf Club officers at Walnut Hills Country Club for 1962 were named at a recent meeting.

President is Jacque Wyllie.

Roselyn Graff is vice president; Shirley Barnett, secretary; Wilma Stewart, treasurer; Phyllis Brown, tournament chairman, and Florabel Clough, handicapper.

Dick Pomeroy Sets PA Swim Record

Dick Pomeroy of the Walnut Hills Country Club swim team set a new Pacific Association (AAU) record in the 200-yard breaststroke in the senior men's class at the sixth annual Alameda Naval Air Station Invitational Swim Meet.

His time was 2:27.6.

Lisa VanHorne was another winner from Walnut Hills. She placed first in the 50-yard breaststroke for girls, 11-12. Her time was 37.8.

Thrailkill Wins Frosh Mat Tilt

Keith Thrailkill, graduate of last year's Miramonte grappling team, continued to display his wrestling ability in college last Saturday when he captured first place in the 137-pound weight division at the Far Western conference championships in Chico.

Thrailkill, as a member of the Humboldt State frosh squad, defeated Don McClellan, defending champion from the University of California at Davis.

College Park JVs Win; Frosh Beaten

College Park JVs defeated Pacifica, 48-38, last Friday.

Rich Wainwright tallied nine for the Falcons.

The jayvees have a season record of 4-5.

The College Park frosh met with its ninth straight defeat against Clayton Valley. The little Falcons are 0-4 in league play.

Keith Ball was high point man with 12.

FAL Teams Have Holiday Tonight; CP, PH Play

Hard to believe as it may seem, basketball bows out in one week, making way for the spring sports.

The season's final regular season games will be played a week from today.

The Foothill League teams have a holiday tonight because all member schools are enjoying a four-day weekend.

However, the same does not hold true in the Contra Costa Divisison.

The Mt. Diablo Unified School District, with five schools in the CCD, had school as usual today —so a full schedule of games is on tap this evening.

COLLEGE PARK, plugging for a first division spot in the final standings, hosts Clayton Valley tonight. The Parkers failed to win a game in 14 CCD tries last season.

Pleasant Hill, winner of one game this season in the CCD, and buried in last place, winds up its season at Pacifica tonight.

Tuesday, College Park closes out its season, hosting Mt. Diablo in an afternoon game.

Tnuesday in the FAL, Las Lomas and Acalanes battle at the Dons home gym in the league's feature game. Tipoff time is 3:30 p.m. in Lafayette.

In another game Tuesday afternoon, h a r d-l u c k Miramonte tries for that one big win against high-flying Piedmont.

A MIRAMONTE win would mean a lot for Coach Herb Graw and his young team after a season of endless frustrations.

Del Valle, winner only once in its first season of FAL competition, will be trying to duplicate that victory when they host Alhambra. The Trojans dumped the Bulldogs, 42-33, at Martinez earlier this year.

Next Friday night, basketball comes to a halt for FAL teams with Acalanes and San Ramon battling in Danville and Miramonte hosting Alhambra.

Piedmont Ties Knights With Win Over Alhambra

Piedmont moved into a first place deadlock in the Foothill League with idle Las Lomas by routing outmanned Alhambra, 69-52, last Friday night.

The Clan and the Knights are both 8-2 with two games to play.

Las Lomas and third place San Ramon squared off in Danville Wednesday night as The Sun was going to press and Piedmont was meeting last place Del Valle.

In the finale for both teams Tuesday, the Knights take on dangerous Acalanes in the Dons' cozy gym while the clan visits Miramonte, winner of just two games this year.

ON THE basis of past records, Piedmont is in the driver's seat.

Las Lomas faces two teams, high in the FAL standings who have combined for 11 wins this year.

The Scots, on the other hand, has to meet the two tailenders who have won just three games between them this year.

In other games last Friday night, Acalanes kept alive its hopes for a third-place finish, edging pesky Del Valle, 48-42, while San Ramon stayed in the running for the title with a 58-50 win over Miramonte.

PIEDMONT 69
ALHAMBRA 52

It was strictly no contest after a few minutes of the second quarter as the Clan outclassed the struggling Bulldogs.

Piedmont opened up a 16-11 lead at the end of one quarter then spurted for 20 points in the second quarter for a big 36-20 halftime lead..

Bob Foskett was the big gun for the Clan with 23 points. He had scoring help from Steve Hogan and Rick Prestwood who finished with 13 and 12 points respectively.

As always, Jim Hammett, with 18 points, paced the Bulldogs.

It was the third win in a row for the Clan, who started the season with five wins before bowing in consecutive games to Las Lomas and San Ramon.

ACALANES 48
DEL VALLE 42

The Trojans made a fight of it all the way against the Dons, but just didn't have the firepower to overcome their taller opponents.

Acalanes led most of the time, but could never open up a commanding lead.

The Dons led, 14-12, after one quarter and then outscored Del Valley, 12-7, in the second quarter for their margin of victory.

The third quarter was all even, 12-12, with Del Valle unable to close the gap by more than a point or two in the final quarter.

The Trojans almost silenced John Paul Jones, the Dons' big offensive guard in the past two games. Jones finished with 10 points.

However, guard Walt Cardinet had 12 points to pace the Dons while having scoring help from Doug Sanderson and Bill Hays with 10 and nine points respectively.

SAN RAMON 58
MIRAMONTE 50

A nip and tuck battle went San Ramon's way in the final quarter as the Matadors continue to play in hard luck.

Miramonte led 12-10 at the quarter, but it was all tied at the half, 26-26.

San Ramon gained the edge at the end of three quarters, 44-42, and then pulled away in the final eight minutes.

The Wolves had balanced scoring from Bob Metez, Charlie Bogue and Jim Howell. The threesome accounted for 48 points with Metez counting 20, Bogue, 15, and Howell, 13.

Mike McQuad had 19 points for the Matadors. Brad Peter and Bruce Nickerson had 12 and 10 respectively.

This Could Happen to Your Child!

Lock those medicine chests and hide the cleaning materials!

If you don't believe us, here are some statistics compiled by the Alameda-Contra Costa Counties Medical Association in 1957.

The report, described as the only one of its kind by Jack Guest of the county health department, points up this warning.

Emergency treatment was required in one year alone for 356 cases of aspirin poisoning, and 174 cases of poisoning by baby aspirin was reported. Aspirin-drug combinations accounted for partment included cough syrup, 22 cases; dexedrine, 20, and thyroid, 22.

Guest said that 144 different drugs were involved in the treatment of 949 emergency cases.

These included ant poison, 99 cases; snail killers, 16; Clorox, 28; Drano, 13; kerosene, 23; mothballs, 18; paint thinner, 53; turpentine, 50, and paint, 10.

This listing is only a part of the total 2136 cases of accidental poisonings reported in the two counties. Although a breakdown on Contra Costa County was not available, health officials said that this county, because of population and the age of residents, probably accounted for better than one-third of the totals.

Church Council Names Officers

The executive committee of the Northern California Council of Churches was named recently at a meeting in the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church with Dr. Richard C. Norberg, superintendent of the Northern California Congregational Conference as the featured speaker.

Reports were heard from the Rev. David Romeis, chairman of the department of institutional ministries, which maintains a chaplain at juvenile hall and county hospital.

The new committee for 1962 is composed of Rev. Bruce Jones, minister of the First Christian Church, Concord, president; Cecil W. Borton, Community Presbyterian Church, Danville, first vice-president; Mrs. Al Holden of Lafayette, second vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Briggs of Walnut Creek, secretary; and Miss Joann Young of Cowell, treasurer.

The following chairmen of departments were elected: Joseph Acorn of Pleasant Hill, chairman of Department of Christian Education; Rev. Jack Wardord of Martinez, chairman of the Department of Comtiy; Rev. Robert Williams of Walnut Creek, Social Education and Action; J. Ragnar Montin of Walnut Creek, chairman of Budget and Finance; Rev. Roland Smith of Pleasant Hill, Institutional Ministries; Rev. Robert Vaughn of Concord, chairman of Evangelism; Rev. Herbert Hirschfeld of Alamo, chairman of Ministerial Fellowship; Rev. Eugene Sill, Pleasant Hill, chairman of worship and Rev. David Romeis, Walnut Creek, chairman of Radio.

Mrs. Walter Turner of Walnut Creek, and Dr. Richard Fickel of Concord, were elected the two members-at-large.

Dr. Philip J. Daunton, executive director, in his annual report noted the accession of six new congregations to the council. This makes a total of 42 churches in the Central Valley area.

CHEAPER auto insurance rates are possible for good students, according to State Farm Insurance Company office manager Monte Balfour, who issues a policy to an outstanding high school student.

Heart Sunday Is Drive Climax

The month-long Heart Fund drive will reach its climax on Sunday when Heart Sunday volunteers will carry the fight against the heart diseases to every home in the community.

Volunteers will start the doorbell ringing campaign early Sunday afternoon to distribute health-saving information about the heart diseases and to accept Heart Sunday contributions.

Funds collected will expand the Contra Costa County Heart Association's programs of research, education and community service.

DR. FLOYD Marchus, Heart Fund chairman, disclosed that a goal of $72,000 has been set for Contra Costa County.

This compares with $67,053 collected during 1961. The major portion of the funds is expected to be collected from residents on Heart Sunday by women volunteers who will call on their neighbors.

"Our aim is to increase funds each year to enable us to expand our research program looking toward the time when there is greater hope for victims of heart disease," Dr. Marchus said.

"For the past five years we have been able to channel each year's increased contributions into this important program.

"DURING this time wonderful advances have been made in treating heart disease. Today there are people walking around with plastic artery patches or with a pacemaker heart device triggered by electronic impulses whose productive years have been extended because of advances made in surgery."

The Contra Costa Heart Association is a chapter of the American Heart Association, the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to combatting the diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

More than 65 million Heart Fund dollars have been invested in research since the Heart Association became a national voluntary health agency in 1948.

The expansion of research to speed breakthroughs in the control and prevention of the cardiovascular diseases is a leading objective of the Heart Fund drive, the chairman said.

Dr. Marchus appealed to residents who may be away from home because of the holiday weekend to return the preaddressed envelope which will be left at the door at their earliest convenience.

HE EXPRESSED concern that the holiday weekend and possible bad weather conditions might cut down on contributions unless residents take the responsibility for mailing their gifts to the Heart Association if they cannot be reached on Heart Sunday.

He lauded volunteers who on previous Heart Sundays have made their rounds, come rain or shine. "Many of these volunteers have had personal experience with heart disease in their own families and are willing to sacrifice hours of their time and many inconveniences for this important cause," he said.

"This is the optimistic picture," Dr. Marchus pointed out. "However, the fact remains that in Contra Costa County 50 per cent of all deaths are caused by diseases of the heart.

These figures include infants, children and young adults, as well as older people. This is why we are asking all residents to join us to make the 1962 Heart Fund drive a greater success than ever before."

Cancer Films Are Available

The American Cancer Society announced two new additions to its extensive film library, which with other dramatic cancer education films may be obtained free for any group showing.

Requests should go to the Contra Costa Branch at 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek.

The new filmstrips are "The Men in Her Life," in black and white which runs eight minutes, and "Prognosis: Hope," also in black and white which runs 15 minutes.

Valentines Are for People Like Margaret Bainbridge

By HELEN SCHARMER

We sent a big valentine to Margaret Bainbridge of 919 Hough Street, Lafayette's "Man of the Year" in 1951, a loving "Mom" to soldiers and sailors at Oak Knoll Hospital, a tender friend to sufferers in the County Hospital, and a helper in her church.

As she says, "My work in the hospitals and rest homes takes up so much of my time that there isn't as much time left as I would like to devote to my church. I do help some, but you know, I am getting a little too old to wash down the church walls, or so they tell me."

Mrs. Bainbridge is 82 years old.

This lovely white-haired woman is no stranger to tragedy, which may explain her compassion and deep feeling for the sick and disabled. Her daughter, Mrs. Doris Blackwood, died of cancer and she later lost her teenage granddaughter, Donna Blackwood.

Her work at Oak Knoll Hospital is mostly with amputees. She reads to them, writes letters for them and, above all, listens to them.

Not content with her hospital work, she visits Pine Brook Rest Home in Lafayette one night a week, and Brook Street Rest Home another evening. Last Christmas she and a friend distributed Christmas baskets for the needy.

In her "spare time" at her home on Bell Street she continues crocheting afghans for the sick and for her friends. To date she has completed 213 of these colorful coverlets.

Mrs. Bainbridge began her errands of mercy in 1945 when she volunteered to "try out" at Oak Knoll. Since that time she has worked steadily and has only missed one Christmas visiting the hospital.

She lists the Boy Scouts among her favorite organizations and is a life member of Troop 204. She also is a life member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church and holds the honorary Military Order of the Purple Heart.

Leaders Named in Lafayette-Orinda Heart Campaigns

Recent appointment of leaders in the Heart Sunday drive to be held this Sunday include an additional group in Lafayette.

Mrs. Earl Creager, 855 Moraga Road, area chairman, has named nine captains.

Captains who will direct volunteers who will make the residential canvass include: Mrs. R. March, Mrs. G. A. Stoops, Mrs. H. Webber, Mrs. Jeanne Dawson, Mrs. Robert Winkel, Mrs. Norman Lescure, Mrs. Alvin Medau, Mrs. Homer Schreiber, Mrs. Ross Johns, Mrs. R. H. Varial and Mrs. John P. Symes Jr.

Additional Lafayette captains are: Mrs. W. P. Folkman and Mrs. R. A. Stirton.

In Orinda, Mrs. Lance Borden is serving as chairman of a special gifts committee.

Other members include: Mesdames John Hopkins, William Scatena, Rolf Anthonisen, William Talbot, Robert Hanson, C. Wellington Smith, Frank Walker and Hobert Johnson.

Morris Assigned To USS Saratoga

Michael J. Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Morris of 3247 Rohrer Drive, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Saratoga, operating as a unit of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

FOUR-LEAF clovers from Denmark, displayed by Mrs. H. Hjortsvang, were gleaned by her daughter, Susanne, left, when Susanne was a child. Susanne had an almost uncanny knack for finding the four-leaf clovers, so much so that she made headlines in a Denmark newspaper which predicted a bright future for the child. Susanne's father is shown at right. Sun photo by Jim Dodge.

Four Leaf Clover Luck Follows Lass Abroad

Several years ago in Denmark a little blonde lass was photographed with a four-leaf clover. Her picture, with the omen of good luck, made the top newspapers, for the child had a unique, almost uncanny ability for plucking clover of the four-leaf variety from thousands of the more prosaic three-leaved kind.

Friends and the press forecast many happy and successful things for the child, who left Denmark when she was eight. Their parting request to the family, "Let us know what happens to this child, let us know if the clover does bring good luck."

SEVERAL years . . . and countries later The Sun is proud to make the answer known far and wide, we hope it even reaches Denmark.

Lass of the four-leaf clover is Miss Susanne Hjortsvang, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holge Hjortsvang of 828 Mt. View Drive, Lafayette.

It's fun to think the clover worked wonders, but in reality, those who know Miss Hjortsvang, concede fortune's turn to beauty, brains, initiative and ability.

A slender blonde whose good looks could make Miss America shake in her crown, Miss Hjortsvang graduated this month from the University of California, where she majored in Spanish.

NOT ONLY is she a Phi Beta Kappa, but she made Alpha Mu Gamma, a foreign language honorary. She is a member of the Honor Student Society, Delta Zeta Sorority and plans to return to UC in about a year to obtain her master's degree in business.

Monday Miss Hjortsvang started work in the personnel department of Crown Zellerbach, San Francisco.

Education of the four-leaf-clover-girl reads like an itinerary. She started school (elementary) in Denmark, finished junior high in Venezuela, went to high school in Vancouver, B.C. and graduated from Palo Alto High School.

Although an excellent scholar, Miss Hjortsvang also excels in sports, particularly swimming and tennis. She enjoys music, reading, dancing and is particularly good at creative modern dance.

Legalities Of Adoption Discussed

The Contra Costa County Citizens Advisory Committee on Adoption recently discussed current legislative proposals for change in adoption practices.

Members decided to compile a summary of its views on these issues to be sent to the State Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary.

Members were interested in the statement of the present law that it is a misdemeanor for an unlicensed person to "place" a child for adoption and they expressed the need for a more precise definition of the practice of "placement."

Opinion was that when "placements" in independent adoption are made by persons as a source of income, the total effect may be detrimental to the welfare of the children involved.

It has been suggested that the requirement of a court record of financial transactions in independent adoptions would prevent abuse of fee charging by unlicensed persons.

Members also felt that the adoption court should have sole jurisdiction while adoption proceedings are pending, and thus prevent the initiation of simultaneous court actions when parties fear unfavorable reports by the Department of Social Welfare to the adoption court.

The county adoption unit reported that there was a 33 per cent increase in the number of adoptive placements in 1961.

It was reported that small changes have been made in the handling of fee collections by the agency and in the use of group meetings for adoptive applicants.

Den No. 7 was the Honor Den for the evening.

Orinda Marine Ends Phase 1

Marine Private Frederick B. MacDonell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne G. MrcDonell of 71 Donna Maria Way, completed recruit training, February 13, at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

The 11-week, four-phase training emphasizes physical conditioning, the history and mission of the Marine Corps, customs and courtesies, hygiene and sanitation, and basic military subjects.

During the rifle range phase, study and practice is devoted to the M-1 rifle, Browning automatic rifle, and the .45 caliber pistol.

Upon completion of the training, the new Marine will report to Camp Pendleton for infantry training.

Realtors' 'Listing' Service---What Does It Do? Does It Help You?

"The Commercial Multiple Listing Service division of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board is rapidly creating a wider and more active market in Contra Costa County for commercial, industrial, multiple residential and subdivision land," said J. H. "Nick" Carter, division chairman.

"This special division, something new within the operations of a real estate board, was prompted because of a need and demand locally to create a market and attract commercial and industrial firms to this area," said Carter.

Realtor King Parker was the founder and first chairman of the special division.

IN ADDITION to attracting businesses and industry to the area within its jurisdiction—Concord, Pleasant Hill, Orinda, Lafayette, Alamo, Danville and Walnut Creek—other objectives are as follows:

Render a greater public service through local commercial and business interest.

Create a wider and more active market for commercial, industrial, multiple residential properties and subdivision land development.

To promote specialization among members in these fields.

TO REFINE procedures and elevate professional standards among those interested in commercial and industrial properties.

To creat uniformity and unity of effort in obtaining and exchanging information and exclusive listings, seeking constantly to provide for community and civic betterment.

To creat and maintain a broader tax base.

The specialized division has met with exceptional success in its first five months of operation. Management meetings are held weekly, and every other week prominent speakers appear to elaborate on subjects of mutual interest.

The division developed standard forms for members' use. Listings, now averaging 20 monthly, are processed and distributed every two weeks.

Photographs are taken of properties and charts or diagrams are printed with the descriptive data, and distributed to all CMLS members.

All members are eligible to work cooperatively on buying or selling, whichever the case may be, thereby creating a much wider market, said Carter.

Alcoholic Employees Can Be Helped, Utility Company Doctor Explains

Sixty per cent of employees with a known alcohol problem can be rehabilitated through industrial programs, according to the medical director of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph.

Dr. R. S. Hockwald of San Francisco told the Contra Costa Council on Alcoholism that early deduction and prompt treatment are the key to helping employees with a drinking problem. He spoke at the second annual meeting.

"Both labor and management must share responsibility in dealing with alcoholism problems on the job," Hockwald said.

Absenteeism, accidents, inefficiency, and idle machines are some of the costs that business must bear unless it faces up to finding and helping workers with alcoholic illness, he said.

According to Dr. Hockwald, management needs to develop a clear-cut policy toward handling of alcoholic employees and then see that everyone understands it.

Setting up a program to rehabilitate problem drinkers does not require a great expense by companies, but it does mean that top management has developed a carefully organized plan.

Hockwald offered three ways to get employees to accept a program for problem drinkers: (1) Stress that alcoholism is a disease; (2) separate treatment from the job; and (3) keep the program alive and vital.

Eleven new members were nominated to the board of the Contra Costa Council on Alcoholism at the meeting.

They are Mrs. Janet Voeks of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Elaine Ingles of Walnut Creek, Dr. Harry Misch of Pleasant Hill, Genevieve Beach of Lafayette, Dr. Robert Pinger of Concord, Mrs. Maxine Johnson of Martinez, Judge Betsy Rahn, Walnut Creek; Frank Leib, Martinez; Robert Bahl, Concord; Dr. Albert Greenberg, Richmond; and Superior Court Judge Norman Gregg, of Richmond.

The council operates two information centers for problem drinkers at 105 Astrid Drive, Pleasant Hill, and 3200 Macdonald Avenue, Richmond.

Under the sponsorship of the Walnut Creek Recreation Department, eigh local schools are participating.

They are: Pine Grove, Inland Valley, Fairview, Stanley, Parkmead, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Rodeo.

Girl Sccuts to Plant Fruit Trees

Girl Scouts of Orinda Troop 344 commemorated the troop's third anniversary by planting flowering fruit trees at the Sleepy Hollow School, using money earned through the sale of calendars and their dues.

Mrs. C. W. Schroeder and Mrs. C. W. Bitner are leaders of the group. Recent activities have included hula instructions and the election of a new Court of Honor with patrol leaders Shirley Mitchell, Cheryl Peake and Lynn Campbell. Kathy Howell has been elected new treasurer and Jeanie Aitchison is troop scribe.

Four plays (one was original) were recently produced and directed by girls in Scout Troop 265 under the leadership of Mesdames Victor Smith and William Mitchell. These girls are working toward their Second Class Rank and now have fulfilled their dramatic requirements.

WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

People often ask me what are telephone area codes. Well, here's the answer. The country is divided into telephone areas — each has a different number called an "AREA CODE". This code is a vital part of your telephone number — it tells what part of the country you live in. Here in the Orinda area for example, the Area Code is 415.

You don't have to use an area code if you're calling a telephone number located in the same code area as yours. But when you dial another area, it's necessary to dial that area code—then the rest of the number. Our operators too must dial area codes. If you place a call with the operator, giving her the area code first will help in putting your call through faster.

* * * * *

Imagine spending 8,760 hours on the phone. It might seem impossible (to anyone but a teenager). Yet a survey shows that's how many hours the average man in his lifetime spends telephoning.

This in itself is a good case for having extension phones wherever you need them to save steps.

So if you want to make your telephone hours more enjoyable, find out about extension phones—in colors and different styles—for your home or office. Call your business office or ask your telephone service man.

* * * * *

Another question I've been asked is why do so many men who work for the phone company wear glasses? Fact is, they may have perfect vision, and we want to keep it just that way.

The glasses telephone men wear on the job are individually fitted safety glasses. They look like ordinary ones, but they're specially made so they won't shatter.

Protective glasses may not seem like a very dramatic safety feature. But they can be every bit as important as a lineman's safety belt to the men who bring you telephone service.

KOVR Offers Contract to Lucky Girl

Appearance on a network television show is just one of the prizes offered by Channel 13 in their "KO-VR Girl" contest.

A 13-week contract for television appearances . . . a $1000 wardrobe . . . an all expense paid trip to Hollywood . . . an appearance on Queen for a Day and the new Tennessee Ernie Ford show . . . an all-expense paid trip to Lake Tahoe and many other prizes are offered.

As C. Glover Delaney, vice president and general manager of Channel 13 pointed out, this is the first real opportunity offered to girls in the area to try for a television career.

"This contest has been tailored to give contestants the best opportunity to show their abilities on television," Delaney stated, "for instance, they will be judged on television alone, for the judges will never see them in person, and their personality and ability to speak will count heavily."

Rules of eligibility are simple —female, reside within Channel 13's coverage area, at least 18 years old. The contest is open to married as well as single girls, previous contest winners, professional models, indeed many that are usually not eligible in beauty contests.

Film on Crippled

A film strip, "Alone? Without Help?" which demonstrates how architectural barriers literally close the door to many of the routine activities of daily living for the cripped and the infirm, will be shown after a meeting of directors of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County at Concord Inn, 1601 Willow Pass Road, next Tuesday evening.

Real Estate Scholarships Awarded Here Monday

Three Willaman Foundation scholarships were awarded Monday at the Contra Costa Real Estate Board's breakfast in the Walnut Creek Elks Club.

J. N. Smith, board president, has announced that Maurice Read, president of the American Chapter of International Real Estate Federation, will make the presentations.

The Glenn D. Willaman Real Estate Foundation was established to stimulate interest in real estate young university students and to make available scholarships to those who are attracted to real estate as a career, according to Smith.

Dr. Carl Stockig Will Speak at St. Mark's Church

The new president of the Northern California Council of Churches, Dr. Carl Stocking, will address St. Mark's Methodist Church Sunday at the 11 a.m. service, Miramonte High School, 750 Moraga Way, Orinda. Dr. Stocking will deal with issues of social concern and the role of the Council of Churches.

Dr. Stocking was installed as president of the council January 18. He served before as the chairman of the department of mission and service.

Dr. Stocking, a former superintendent of the Methodist Church, has served as program secretary for the Methodist Church since 1959. A graduate of Southwestern College in his native Kansas and of Boston School of Theology, he was awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity by the University of Pacific in 1958.

All interested persons are invited to hear Dr. Stocking this Sunday.

Heart Disease And Dentistry To Symposium

"Heart Diseases as Related to Dentistry" will be the subject of the second annual symposium for dentists presented by the Contra Costa Heart Association and the Contra Costa County Dental Society on Tuesday from 7 to 10 p.m. at Acalanes High School cafeteria, Lafayette.

Chairman is Dr. Herbert R. Packard, Walnut Creek.

Demonstration and practice of closed chest cardiac resuscitation under the direction of Dr. Mahlon C. Connett, Walnut Creek,

Demonstration of Dr. Mahlon C. Connett, Walnut Creek, will highlight the first half of the session.

Avoid Wrong Cancer Cure Says Doctor

Renewed warnings against unproved methods of treating cancer were issued by Dr. Jonas Schreider, president of the American Cancer Society's Contra Costa branch.

He quoted reports that the use of unproved methods of treating the disease is on the rise, adding that radiation and surgery are still the only known methods of successful treatment.

"Unproved methods usually are sought by a family only in desperation, when all else seems to have failed," Dr. Schreider pointed out.

"People clutch at straws, forcing themselves to believe in ideas that would be discarded without a second thought if they weren't under such serious emotional strain."

The tragic consequence, according to Dr. Schreider, is that time lost in trying unproved methods of treatment may deprive the cancer patient of his life.

The family can often be wrong in jumping to a conclusion that all else has failed, he declared.

Easter Seal Chairman Named; Drive Planned

Paul Leschine, executive for an Antioch savings and loan firm, has been appointed chairman of the 1962 Easter Seal Campaign in Contra Costa County, according to Melvin Hardin, president of the County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Leschine is a member of the Antioch Rotary Club and the Contra Costa Real Estate Board. He and his wife, Marie, live in Walnut Creek.

Leschine said this year's campaign will start March 15 with the mailing of sheets of Easter seals to 125,000 Contra Costa families.

The Easter seals will be accompanied by a letter telling of the services of the local Easter seal society to crippled children and adults of Contra Costa County.

The society provides vocational training for handicapped adolescents and young adults at its workshop in Richmond. In coordination with the Richmond School Department, special services are being provided for mentally retarded adolescents 16 years of age or older, and for multiple handicapped teen-agers attending Christina B. Cameron School.

The Easter Seal Society also provides a recreation program for workshop trainees, and a summer resident camp experience for crippled children and young adults through coordination with the Easter seal resident camps of Santa Cruz and Santa Clara counties.

Services to parents of handicapped children include parent education classes, and the distribution of pamphlets for parents published by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Headquarters of the local Easter seal society are at 240 South Sixth Street, Richmond, and 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek.
